HOOVER COMING HOME TO FACE MANY PROBLEMS

WILL SAYS HOOVER DECISION IS BLOW TO RAIL BUSINESS

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27. — Mr. Hoover changed his mind, and is going to Washington and break the news to the office seekers, instead of having them come down to Florida and him have to feed 'em while there.

That will knock those two railroads out of the biggest business they would have all year.

A president-elect's popularity is the shortest lived of any public man. It only asts till he picks his cabinet.

Say, this police commissioner has rounded so many crooks up and put 'em in jail, that it's interfering with the theater attendance.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One of the things that hampers the work of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society is the practice which many people of New Castle and Lawrence county have; they do not pay for their Christmas seals although they use them. Perhaps they have every intention of paying but somehow they never get around to it. So at this time the society issues an appeal for every one who has received seals either to pay for them or to return them to the headquarters of the society at 8½ East street.

Slowly but surely West Garfield avenue is coming out of the bushes and beginnig to look as if it were a part of the city. Which, in the vernacular means that the street is getting better. In a few months it will be entirely fixed. At the present time the ditches are all closed and it is passable at last.

And then there is the story of the reporter who jaunted up to the Jameson Memorial hospital yesterday afternoon to get the story of the year ony to find that it was locked and all the boys were still Christmassing somewhere or other. However the reporter reports that through the windows both the main building and the nurses home look nearly completed.

Bird cages on the roof are queer things but Pa Newc saw one the other afternoon on the top of a Wallace avenue house. In the cage fluttered a dozen or so pigeons.

Although one would expect the streets to be quite deserted the day after Christmas, yet such was not the case Wednesday afternoon. More than the usual number of shoppers were out.

Christmas afternoon the boys in the smoking room of a westbound train were moaning—moaning what was to them the old fashioned Christmas Tales of Guargantuan parties were thrown around—each accompanied by a sigh for the good old days. They looked prosperous and Pa Newc wondered how prosperous they would look after one of these old fashioned parties.

What is a speed record for any small car was hung up by a man who came home to New Castle for Christmas. He claims that in one of the smallest and lightest cars he made 160 miles in three hours and one half.

Special Session Biggest Problem Before Hoover

President-Elect To Face Many Perplexities When He Returns To U. S.

CONTROVERSY STARTS OVER SPECIAL SESSION

Borah And Longworth Issue Statements; Hoover To Make Decision

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—President-Elect Hoover is going to have a hectic 10 days when he sets foot in Washington again about January 6.

They—meaning congressional leaders, politicians, job hunters, et al.—are almost going to meet him at the dock to get to him first with their problems.

Special Session Problem.

The first and foremost decision that he will have to make is whether there is to be a special session of congress immediately after inauguration. The controversy between his supporters over this matter has reached an acute stage, with muttering of "broken

Early Start On Surveys For New Bridge Desired

To Have Bearing On Completion Of Edenburg-Hillsville Road

Residents of Edenburg and the western part of the county are starting an agitation for a new bridge to span the Mahoning river at Edenburg, to take place of the old covered bridge.

It is pointed out that owing to this old bridge it will be impossible to connect up the new concrete road, with the section which is soon to be constructed west of Edenburg. The new road, which was completed last summer, ends at the hill north of Edenburg, and there is a stretch of about a half a mile to where the new concrete will begin.

Had it not been for the old bridge, the new section would have been built to the end of the present concrete, which would have given Edenburg a concrete road. When the bridge is built it is proposed to span the railroad tracks to the north with a viaduct. It took about four years, from the time negotiations were started for the Wampum bridge until it was completed. This was owing to the different interests involved, the railroads, state, county, borough and township.

In the case of the Edenburg bridge there will also be the interests of the railroads and the electric railway to be considered, and it is anticipated that it will take several years to get the project through, even if surveys are started next summer. For that reason the agitators for the bridge would like to get something started as soon as possible.

Eventually it is expected that the Edenburg road will be completed through to Hillsville and the state line.

LIQUOR BUYER HELD EQUALLY GUILTY WITH ONE WHO SELLS

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27—Purchasers of liquor were held equally guilty with bootleggers when the sale involves the element of transportation by Federal Judge William H. Kirkpatrick today in one of the most important court decisions since the passage of the 18th amendment.

Under Judge Kirkpartick's ruling Alfred E. Norris, wealthy New York clubman, was fined $200 for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws in buying liquor from Joel D. Kerper, Philadelphia's Society Bootlegger."

Defense counsel immediately announced an appeal would be taken to the U. S. Circuit Court and Norris was released in $400 bail.

The "mere purchase of liquor" is not a legal offense under the Volstead Act but buyers are liable for prosecution under the Federal conspiracy statutes when their purchase from bootleggers involves transportation of the "wet" goods, the court held.

If the buyer lives at a distance and orders the liquor by telephone and pays for it, that is sufficient evidence to show agreement between the parties concerned for transportation of the liquor, Judge Kirkpatrick ruled.

In the case before the court, Norris, a resident of New York City, readily admitted purchase of liquor from Kerper, a Philadelphia resident but

WIDOW OF SLAIN MAN SAYS HIDEOUS MISTAKE MADE IN FEARN SHOOTING

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Dec. 27. — Mrs. Mary S. Fearn, widow of Vernard E. Fearn, Waco coal operator slain three weeks ago on the porch of his home, believes Mrs. Margaret Heldman made a "hideous mistake" in shooting her husband under the belief that he had "ruined her life."

"I have not lost faith in Mr. Fearn," the widow said today. "I cannot make myself believe that he carried on with Margaret as they said he did. Certainly if meetings occurred between them they must have been in the daytime when he was out delivering coal. He was a home loving man who rarely went out at night, notwithstanding that he was privileged to do so. But he liked to spend his evenings at home.

Hard To Believe

But this is the thing that makes it most difficult to believe that he had intimate relations with Margaret that they say he had. He did not recognize her when she shot him. He did not die for five minutes after he was shot and as he lay in a pool of blood he gasped out that he did not know her or why she shot him. I believe he told the truth. He could

LIQUOR CONTROL PLAN IS STUDIED

Mills' Suggestions Something On Order Of Costa Rica Plan

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD U. S. S. UTAH, (via Arlington, Va., radio station), Dec. 27.—With the battleship Utah still a day's cruise south of the equator today, President-Elect Hoover continued to make the most of calm weather by resting in preparation for the strenuous days ahead of him after the ship docks at Hampton Roads, Va., on January 6.

Relaxing under a canopy erected on the after-deck to protect him from the torrid rays of the equatorial sun, Mr. Hoover dictated some letters to his secretary at intermittent intervals. He spent most of the time conversing with Mrs. Hoover, Ambassador Fletcher and others of his party.

Interested in Plan

The President-elect appeared interested in the plan for making prohibition effective which Major Chester P. Mills presented to win W. C. Durant's $25,000 prize.

Major Mills' plan is similar to that used in Costa Rica. When Mr. Hoover visited that country a month ago he appeared much interested in the system of controlling the sale of liquor there.

Believe Bandits Cause Of Wreck Of 'Crack Train

Fast Sante Fe Train Wrecked In California; Passengers Are Injured

EVIDENCE SHOWS TRACK TAMPERING

Three Of Cars Are Thrown Down 20-Foot Embankment In Wreck

(Bulletin)
(International News Service)

HESPERIA, Cal., Dec. 27.—A widespread search will be launched for a gang of bandits who are believed to have caused the wreck of the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe crack passenger train, No. 22, near here early today, it was announced by officials of the railroad who arrived on the scene from Los Angeles.

Between seven and nine passengers sleeping in Pullman berths, were injured, and many more narrowly escaped death when five Pullman cars and a private car of the train plunged off the rails as the great juggernaut rattled on a down grade at the terrific speed of 60 miles an hour.

Deliberately Wrecked

Further evidence that the train had been wrecked by an outlaw group was disclosed when it was discovered that the tool house of the Sante Fe here had been entered by robbers. Two track wrenches, two cross bars and one spike maul were found missing from the tool houses.

The train, which had left Los Angeles at eight o'clock last night, was just rounding a curve when the de-

Soon comes the day, oh happy day, when every one makes his resolves, which resolutions like ice cream, in short time rapidly dissolves. When citizens raise up their hands, and swear to live an upright life, to quit their cussing at the dog, to speak with kindness to the wife. To drink no more, nor smoke a bit, and cast away the nasty chew, and with late hours they resolve the next twelve months that they are through. Oh happy day, when these are made, they sound so good and live so short, but one must make his annual speech, one has to be a New Years sport. Ah me, those resolutions break so quick, like eggs they crash and soon are through, but every one keeps making them, the weather, warm and forty-two.

Sentiment Here Favors "Baumes Law" Idea With Slight Modifications; Some Opinions Of Local Citizens

One piece of legislation which is proposed for the coming session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, and which is occupying the attention of the Lawrence County Bar, is that suggested by District Attorney Monoghan of Philadelphia, Life Imprisonment for fourth time felony offenders.

The law as proposed by Mr. Monoghan would be modeled somewhat after the famous Baumes Law of New York state. In New York when a criminal is convicted for the fourth time of a felony, he is automatically sentenced to life imprisonment. There is no option in the matter, no discretionary power in the hands of the judges, the life imprisonment is mandatory.

Michigan Law Drastic

Michigan has a similar law, but in Michigan crimes are listed as felonies that do not grade higher than misdemeanors in Pennsylvania. As a result some offenders are getting life in Michigan whose crimes are really not as serious as the penalty warrants.

The idea of life imprisonment for fourth offenders where the crimes are felonies is born out of the thought that there should be some drastic means of checking the increasing wave of crime in Pennsylvania and the other states of the Union. Monoghan of Philadelphia has just come through a rather rigid investigation in Philadelphia in which police officers and officials were found guilty of crime.

However there are some angles of the proposed law which will have to be straightened out before it will be passed no dolbt. Should a criminal convicted of a felony in another state be rated as having committed a felony in Pennsylvania, if the felony committed in the other state is listed as a misdemeanor in Pennsylvania? Should the life imprisonment be an inflexible law or should the judges be given discretionary power? These and other questions are being discussed by lawyers over Pennsylvania and by lawyers practicing before the Lawrence County bench.

"Absolutely Right"

"The idea of life imprisonment for fourth felonies is absolutely right," said Attorney William E. Porter, who

Tilson Declares Tariff Revision Stands Pledged

Representative Tilson In Connecticut Speech Says Republicans Pledged

TARIFF WAS BIG CAMPAIGN ISSUE

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 27.—The Republican party is pledged to undertake a general revision of the tariff, Rep. John O. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader of the house said in a speech before the State Chamber of Commerce here today.

The pledge is contained in the party's platform in the attitude of its campaign orators and in a "general understanding" in congress when the McMaster resolution for emergency farm tariff legislation was defeated last year he said.

"During the campaign the subject was referred to very often so that it may well be said that the party that was successful won out with the widespread understanding that a general revision of the tariff should be undertaken and fortunately the party platform, the campaign waged upon the platform coupled with the sweeping victory, all made it clear that what was really wanted was a revision along protective lines" said Tilson.

In referring to the defeat of the McMaster resolution in the house by eight votes after it passed the senate Tilson said.

"In fact I am violating no pledge of secrecy in saying that a sort of understanding grew up at that time in case the immediate revision was obviated and early general revision including both agriculture and other industries would be undertaken."

his counsel held this did not violate the prohibition law.

Judge Kirkpatrick's ruling in part follows:

"Purchasers of liquor are amenable to prosecution under the conspiracy statutes of the United States if their dealings with bootleggers involve the element of transportation. The mere purchase of liquor alone is not an offense, but both the buyer and bootleggers are guilty of conspiracy if the seller transports liquor to the buyer's home due to their transactions. If the buyer lives at a distance and orders over the telephone from a bootlegger and later pays for the same, that is sufficient evidence to show that an agreement existed between both parties for the transportation of the liquor."

Which should be taken with a slight tinge of salt althought it might be true.

'Way down Mill street it is possible to see The Cathedral Christmas tree. Perhaps it is one of the best situated trees in the city, at least more folks seem to be admiring it.

There is one girl in New Castle who did not do much work the day after Christmas for her actions were such as to display to the best advantage one very large white diamond ring which the Young Blood had donated to the cause.

Isn't any one going to Floridy or sumeres where its warm this year? Usually about this time and earlier one hears of a number of people, tired of the brumous weather of the Keystone state, who leave for the south. This year, Pa Newc has heard of very few. Perhaps a mild winter thus far accounts for it.

A lady who spent Christmas in California last year, is in New Castle during this Yuletide week. She states that the Christmas week out there last year was not one bit warmer, balmier, or prettier than it is here this year.

Pa Newc ran across a very young man who invests his money in real estate "so he won't have it to spend foolishly." He says that once he gets money he cannot keep it so invests it. Not such a bad habit, Pa Newc would say.

It seems that work has again been suspended on the removing of debris from the old church on North Jefferson street. Pa Newc has not noticed any work being done for some time and the heap of bricks and dust appear to have not been diminished to any great extent.

Take a hop down to the Y. M. C. A. this evening and see and hear the sports meet with Butler which is taking place there. It starts this afternoon and as the sheet hits the press, the meet gets under way. There are about a hundred men and boys doing their stuff and half of this number are New Castle boys.

Skating this year has been slim, according to reports here and there from watery places. Out at East Brook there has been some ice, so it is said, and out on Hickory creek near the Cleland-Mill road the boys have been whooping it up on the ice.

Pa Newc talked awhile to an embryonic Bertillion last night. He says that in 10 years every one will have to have their dainty little fingers imprinted on the tell tale cards, and when that day comes there will be a protection before as well as after crimes for the business men who have shady employes. Pa Newc is hoping to have his money made before that day arrives.

Some of the business houses, restaurants in particular, are still giving away their Christmas treats. Yesterday one of the Pa Newc's and his curley haired watch dog went in to a restaurant where they have been frequenting frequently and although it was the day after, the two fifteen cents scegars were fetched on a plate.

Pa Newc has got wind of a certain man who resides out in the country some where in the county who can add several columns of figures with lightening speed and accuracy. One of the township tax collectors always has his adding machine checked up by this young man after totalling a lot of figures.

A'nen, there is also wind of a lady, quite aged and with a keen memory, who has a document which was signed by the original and only B. Franklin. If such be the case, the lady can expect a platonic visit from Pa Newc.

Report given to The News last night to the effect that no fires occurred here during the Christmas holiday is very gratifying to everyone, Pa opines. It shows that the people of New Castle took extreme precautions this year to prevent any such disastrous occurrence from marring their fun. But the decorations and trees with electric lights still remain. Be careful. Let's continue the record.

Workmen are busy rushing the 1,100 seat auditorium at the new George Washington Junior high school to completion. Decorating work is being done now. When the building is dedicated on February 22 with its already completed swimming pool, its gymnasium, its cafeteria and then the auditorium it will mark the formal addition of another splendid building to the New Castle public school system.

Several reports have been received by Pa Newc of persons who celebrated a birthday on Christmas day. They are James Lutton, 625 East Reynolds street, and Mrs. W. G. Duncan, 528 Glen avenue, Ellwood City.

Not so long ago police found a cooker with pork chops which was supposed to have been stolen. The cooker and pork chops were placed on a safe in the sergeant's office as "evidence." That was before Christmas. The lid was kept tight and evidently the porkchops were forgotten. Today the lid was removed. Everyone had to leave the office.

Mayor William H. Gillespie has not yet decided whether or not he will ask the city council to add another policeman to the department. According to the ordinance passed a year ago he can as the quota assigned has not been completed. Richard Cooper was elected but did not take the position. Recently his name was removed from the eligible list leaving room for another policeman if the mayor so desires.

YOUNG MENTIONED AS OBSERVER FOR REPARATIONS MEET

row's unavailability was thought to be the prominence his name is receiving in connection with a high post in the Hoover administration March 4.

Rufus Dawes, brother of Vice President Dawes, who assisted in working out the original reparations plan, has been mentioned here as one of the observers in connection with Jeremiah Smith, of Boston, who helped to put Hungary on her financial feet. Francis Perkins, of Boston, law partner of Roland W. Boyden, one time unofficial observer on the reparations commission in Paris, and friend of Herbert Hoover, also has been prominently mentioned.

Grocery Store Is Scene Of Robbery

Grocery store of Mike Wester, 305 Sampson street, was entered some time last night by a thief or thieves and a considerable quantity of cigarets and other goods taken. Detective John Young and Officer Longstreth investigated the case and found that entrance had been effected by breaking a cellar window.

promises" and "keeping faith" being bandied back and forth at the capitol.

Speaker "Nick" Longworth's vigorous statement opposing an extra session of the new congress was followed today by an even more vigorous statement from Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, declaring "there is no escape from a special session unless we propose to utterly disregard the promises we made to the voters in the campaign". That is just one example of the pulling and hauling now in progress here among Republican spokesmen. It is all going to be dumped in Mr. Hoover's lap for decision week after next.

Borah waxed wrothy at the very suggestion that there should be no special session to enact farm relief and tariff revision because it was at his suggestion during the campaign that Mr. Hoover said he would call the session provided the present dying congress did not accomplish farm relief.

Stresses Promise.

Borah stressed the solemnity of this promise, declaring it impossible to push through a real farm program in the eight weeks before March 4.

It is no secret that Mr. Hoover would rather not inaugurate his administration with an extra session of congress. He would rather see the present congress enact farm relief and effect such tariff changes as are considered necessary. His promise to call an extra session if this congress failed to act was given with considerable reluctance. How he is going to escape it now, however, is another matter.

In the weeks he has been in Latin-America the cables and wireless have carried a steady flow of conflicting messages southward to him from leaders of divergent opinions. Those who are against the special session urged him to speak a word to this congress that would get action; the other side counselled him to do nothing until the new "Hoover congress comes in with his own administration March 4.

One Of Many Perplexities.

The clash over the special session is only one of the many perplexities that will be piled on Mr. Hoover's doorstep.

He has expressed the desire for "a very simple inauguration." Washington business interests are raising a fund of $100,000 to make it a grand affair, and some of the Republican leaders in congress are proposing to make it the occasion for a grand military display with 10,000 troops especially brought to Washington for the occasion.

Then there are the job-seekers. A sizeable young army of patronage hungerers is mobilizing in Washington against the return of the president-elect. Everything from cabinet posts to judgeships and postmasterships are desired, and nobody apparently has much of a line of "what's what."

Mr. Hoover hasn't seen many politicians since he was elected and so far as is known no definite word about appointments has come from him on his southern cruise, notwithstanding the floods of messages that have been sent him enroute. It is said authoritatively in Washington that 10,000 words have been sent to the president-elect from Washington to every ten received back in reply.

Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, has been sitting on the patronage lid. But it is also said he has not been in a position to give much comfort and cheer to the faithful, for Mr. Hoover has been inaccessible and uncommunicative.

Meanwhile, senators and congressmen have been disturbed by reports that some of their patronage prerogatives are to be taken away from them and given to national committeemen and state leaders.

SENTIMENT HERE FAVORS BAUMES LAW WITH MODIFICATIONS

for eleven years was on the bench of Lawrence county. "However, there should be some discretion upon the part of the court. It might be well to allow the court discretion on the commission of a fourth felony, but if the offender came back for a fifth time, then it should be mandatory. Or else give the judges discretion except in crimes of violence."

"No," said Dr. F. S. Neigh, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, when asked if he favored a mandatory life imprisonment law for fourth felonies. "We cannot set two crimes alongside of each other and say that the two are absolutely alike," said Dr. Neigh. "There should be some drastic deterrent for criminals, and perhaps a life imprisonment for fourth felonies would serve, but if such a law is passed, then the judges should be given some leeway in the matter of sentence."

By the time the bill is up for passage, it will likely have been thoroughly threshed out, but in the meantime, lawyers and citizens interested in the public welfare are engaging in a rather interesting debate.

Some Opinions

Among the New Castle lawyers there is a variance of opinion as to the provisions of the law, but the general impression seems to be that there should be some drastic legislation passed which will deter crime.

Attorney George W. Muse, former district attorney believes that a life imprisonment law for fourth penalties could be passed if the judges of the state were given discretion as to when it should be pronounced. Some violations should not be classed as felonies, although the penal code so classifies them, according to Mr. Muse. "Punishment is not always a deterrent of crime," said Mr. Muse, and making it mandatory that a fourth offender get life is too ironclad for the purpose it is intended.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, also a former district attorney believes likewise that the discretion should be with the court. "There are times," said Mr. Dickey when a man would come up for a fourth offense that would be listed as felony, and yet actually the crime itself is not so heinous. For example a small embezzlement by a clerk. Would it be justice to give a man life imprisonment for the embezzlement of a small amount of money, even though he had committed three other felonies?"

Certainty Rather Than Degree

"The certainty of punishment is more important than the degree," said Attorney Wylie McCaslin. "I believe that life imprisonment for a fourth felony would serve as a wholesome lesson for criminals. At least it would serve warning to the underworld that drastic punishment was certain for them if they were found guilty of a fourth felony. I am not so sure that this law should be applied to every felony, however. My opinion is that it should apply to crimes of violence such as murder, manslaughter, burglary, robbery, arson, rape or mayhem. These are crimes of violence. A burglar who carries a gun in the performance of his nefarious work is ready to kill and will kill if the necessity arises. Such people should be put away. Perhaps it would not serve to reform them, but at least it would protect society from their further depradations. Further, I believe that the law should apply only to felonies committed in Pennsylvania."

Miss Cora Ritchie, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association is of the opinion that such a law would be a good thing. "When a man or woman has committed a fourth felony, there is every indication that they have become hardened criminals," said Miss Ritchie, "and I believe that society is entitled to protection. Of course there are some crimes which now rate as felonies but which should be exempt from the provisions of such a drastic law. In the main, such a law would serve as a deterrent I believe. If it did not, then society is entitled to safety from such persons and they should be put away. It would be severe on the criminal of course, but we are showing too much leniency as it is."

Crowds Attend Revival Services

Pentecostal Tabernacle Revival Meetings Take Place Nightly

The special revival campaign that is being conducted each evening this week in the Pentecostal Tabernacle, South street, by the pastor, Dr. Thomas J. Logan, continues to grow in interest and power.

Splendid congregations assemble each evening, anxious to hear the inspiring addresses by Dr. Logan. A number of young people of the congregation assist the services by carrying banners on a truck announcing the meeting.

The sermon Wednesday evening was on the subject "A Glorious Resurrection in New Castle or a Revival in the Old Time Way" taken from the story of the resurrection of dry bones from Ezekial 37:2.

The speaker said that as the prophet Ezekiel had a vision of the dry bones, so do we need a vision of men and women without God, then go forth to raise the fallen. Ezekiel went prayerfully with a cry, "Come, O Breath of God," we need a breeze from Calvary like in Wales in 1904 when the cry of the Welsh in the Rhonda valley "Lord send us a Breeze". Then God sent a breeze of revival and it is estimated that 28,000 were redeemed.

At the close of the sermon a number of men and women made the great decision for God. The meetings continue each evening except Saturday at 7:30 o'clock.

Three Marathon "Talkers" Quit

Three Participants In "Lung And Throat" Rodeo Drop By Wayside In New York

STAGGER SPEECHLESS FROM OFF PLATFORM

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Three members of the supposedly talkiest ran out of words today and staggered speechless from the arena of New York's "gab fest" marathon.

Marie Guimpire, beautiful French blonde, mislaid all her accents and was too exhausted to look for them. Via the sign language, Mlle. Guimpire signaled she was retiring to a boiler factory to recuperate.

Anet Barrie, petite and white-haired, also walked out on the gang without another word. Anet has been portraying Lady Macbeth with the aid of a candle and a sleep-walking act. The last time Anet did her stunt she kept right on walking.

May Shaw, who has been reading the Bible from cover to cover, backwards and forward, just ran down like an old alarm clock. The folks cheered May as she climbed through the ropes.

There was one masculine entry who slipped into the oblivion of silence. He was Signor Andrea Di Giurco, of Italy, whose tenor syllables have attracted crowds of sophisticated ears to his tent post. The report reached Andrea that Premier Mussolini was no longer listening on the radio to the Italian champion's voice. Andrea gave a last gust of song and ended it all with a shout.

HOOVER RESTING IN PREPARATION FOR NEW DUTIES

duces or imports every gallon of alcohol allowed in circulation in the country. It sells to distributors on an allotment basis, giving them the privilege of mixing the liquor as they please.

By thus controlling the price as well as the quantity of liquor on the market, the Costa Rican government enforces a form of temperance.

The Costa Rican system was the most rigid system of controlling the sale of liquor encountered in all 10 Latin-American countries visited by Mr. Hoover. All the other countries limited their efforts to controlling the hours during which liquor might be sold or limiting the number of vending places in each district.

In Chile no building may be used exclusively for the sale of liquor, but hotels and restaurants may sell as much as they please up until one o'clock in the morning. There are no bars or saloons in the country, but diners take wine with all their meals in continental fashion.

In Brazil liquor is sold in a similar manner, but the coffee houses take the place of Chile's hotels and restaurants. The Brazilian coffee houses resemble Germany's beer gardens.

Peru was the only country visited where the old-fashioned American bar is generally used.

In Buenos Ayres, the "Paris" of the Americas, most of the residents take their wine at the sidewalk tables of boulevard cafes or at the numerous all-day cabarets. One of the few bars in the city is that of the American Club. Even this one is only 10 feet long. The Jockey Club, famed throughout South America for the fact that its cellars contain more than 50,000 bottles of rare wines, has no bar.

CONGRESS TO WAIT FOR HOOVER

THE attitude of "leave it to Hoover," which pervades the national capital, is to Mr. Hoover's advantage and no mean tribute, for it implies the confidence of the retiring president, congress and the people. It gives him the satisfaction of knowing that little will be done during the short session of congress to embarrass him when he takes over the executive reins in March.

This "Let George do it" spirit gives the president-elect no new experience. He was the handy man of the second Wilson administration and the government's jack-of-all-trades under Harding and Coolidge. So the present storing-up or responsibilities, duties and decisions as an inaugural gift for him will hardly disturb or embarrass him.

President Coolidge's message to congress early this month showed a studied effort to urge nothing upon this congress which might upset Hoover's program or obstruct his policies. Mr. Coolidge will be satisfied it this congress passes only the most urgent legislation and shows reasonable restraint in its appropriations. He would like most of all, out of concern for his economy record, to see this fiscal year close with another treasury surplus.

The do-nothing policy of congress may be actuated more by opportunism than by compassion for the next president. Congress is usually alert to excuses for legislative procrastination and an approaching change of administration affords such an opportune excuse.

UNITED STATES IS ON WHEELS

RECORDS compiled from the books of the various states by a motor magazine show that there are now 24,592,370 registered motor vehicles in this country. This is an increase of 1,463,055 over a year ago. With the beginning of the new year the number will be still larger. If we give each car a capacity of five passengers it will be seen that combined they are capable of carrying practically all the men, women and children in the United States.

Viewed from this standpoint, it is no exaggeration to say that the entire nation is on wheels. No other country in the world compares with us in the number of motor vehicles. It is a sign of general prosperity which cannot be gainsaid. It is characteristic of the desire for speed and service that so many persons in the ordinary walks of life should contrive to have their own machines and their own garages.

What might have been a luxury in a preceding generation is now regarded as a necessity by many millions in the United States. There are many evidences of well-being to be seen on every side, but the modest car, multiplied many times, is the symbol of the high standard of living which has been attained in this country.

SLUMP IN PENNSYLVANIA SOCIALIST VOTE

NOT since Eugene V. Debs first ran for president in 1900 has the Socialist candidate polled a vote in Pennsylvania as low as the 18,647 votes just recorded from the recent election. It is true the party lost its official standing by failing to obtain the required two per cent in 1926, but in national elections it has often shown marked tendencies of growth, while its downward fluctuations never carried it below the dead line.

This was a bad year for minority blocs. All of them put together, Prohibitionists, Socialists, Communists, etc., did not muster one per cent of the enormous electorate in this state which rendered the decisive verdict of November 6, and Norman Thomas, the Socialist, barely counted the proverbial half of one per cent. His colleagues ran better than the head of their ticket, but not even their 23,000 supporters can eke the needed two per cent from a situation that gave practically a thousand ballots to Hoover for every one it scattered among the minorities.

During the campaign considerable curiosity had been felt regarding the status of the Socialists. Like the Republicans and the Democrats, they put forward the ablest man available in the party. But there were too many cross-currents to permit Thomas to roll up the totals of his predecessors, seasoned campaigners like Debs and La Follette. The Socialists, too, suffered from the same divisive liquor issue as the Democrats. The party leaders wanted a wet plank, but the rank and file preferred to evade the question. As a result, those who felt strongly either way about the matter quit the beaten path for a Hoover detour or a Smith detour. In fact, the overshadowing Republican-Democratic contest cut too deep in many ways to leave even a bare nucleus of minority factions.

Perhaps the Socialist party is not really dying in Pennsylvania, but the state election of 1926 and the national referendum of 1928 are revelations to those who were impressed by the specious La Follette showing in 1924.

The tree of knowledge has thorns on it.

Winter teaches us one thing. Sidewalks may be easy on the feet but they are hard on the head.

Most of us are mad at the world just because there aren't enough first prizes for all of us to have one.

The reason people don't recognize the road to Easy Street is because they expect to see signs advertising 20 per cent dividends.

Political Issue (in the American manner): "My opponent has occupied this office for three terms, in which time he has become an experienced and very useful public servant. Therefore, he should get out and give someone else a chance."

Your Broadway And Mine

By WALTER WINCHELL

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Abbe Niles, who covers music, the new records, and so forth, for The Bookman, takes up his quill and notifies his favorite column that there will be at least a dozen Vestris records.

THE ORIGIN

A group of Broadway veterans were discussing the origin of the couvert charge. Some one argued that Sam Salvin once told him that the first couvert was charged at the old Rector's, and it was only a dime.

And the first spender to squawk about it was Diamond Jim Brady.

Jaquita Deitrick thinks they would draw the wag trade if that Fifth avenue firm would incorporate as "Jaeckel & Hide."

The young lady also suggests that those uptown "drags" be called "nancy dress balls."

A NEW ONE

The pickpockets have a new wrinkle along the Main Stem. Maude Lburne of the "Three Cheers" troupe fell for it, anyway. A man flicked his cagarette ashes on her sleve as she was walking through the crowds. Another stepped up from the rear and excitedly pounded the sleeve, yelling: "Golly, your coat's on fire!" She thanked him very much, and he went on.

A few minutes later she discovered the loss of her purse.

IMAGINE!

Stage history checked up another record with the departure of a flopperoo called "These Few Ashes." Before the show laid an egg it set a precedent by giving a performance before 100 "skulls," which is ritz for "deadheads," or people in on passes.

Not one of the spectators, in other words, was a paid admission.

A FORM OF CRITICISM

It was at a First-Night, says Harold Locke, who turned to his companion and chirped:

"What a stupid show! It's a wonder the audience doesn't hiss it!"

"You can't hiss and yawn at the same time," was the response.

BROADWAY ROMANCE

I met you, and like that, my fate
was sealed;
And you admitted, too, that love
had come.
We both, it seemed, had something that appealed.
There was no doubt we'd left each other numb.
(That happened Sunday)

Too bad it couldn't last. It's over now.
As far as I am concerned, you're strictly nil.
Accept this poem as my final bow,
And if I broke your heart, send me the bill.
(And this is Monday.)

George D. Lottman.

TITTER

The actors who ankle up and down Broadway will tell you that it sounds like him. He was dickering with a vaudevillian for one of his shows, and "caught" the fellow's act at a nearby theater. The next day the lad called at his office.

"Your act is all right," said the manager, "but I don't like the last 'bit' at all."

"Oh, I've eliminated that," said the actor.

"But," was the retort, "why don't you cut it out altogether?"

Just Folks

FRIENDSHIP

Riches come and riches go,
Stocks that rise can tumble low,
Through the fingers fortunes slip,
Storms may wreck the stoutest ship.
Only friendships tried and true
Surely last a lifetime through.

On this old terrestrial ball
Up we climb and down we fall,
By mysterious ways and strange
Fads and whims and fancies change,
But the faithful friends we make
Cling to us for friendship's sake.

Work for money, work for place,
To your duty set your face,
Play the neighbor, play the man,
Brave life's battle best you can,
But remember to the end,
He is blessed who has a friend.

Misers clinging to their gold
Find life's journey bleak and cold,
Men who rise by strength alone
Soon or late are overthrown,
But when storms and trials sweep,
Friends are all a man can keep.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:38. Sun rises tomorrow 7:23.

It won't be long now for old 1928.

Getting Christmas cards from people you do not remember having met is another sensation.

One day last week a lady called us up and wanted to know if we would publish an answer to that Hellcat wife article. We told her we would but she did not send it in. Wonder what stopped her?

We know some people who are not only naturally anarchists but try to be even more so. Having the respect of decent people is a big asset. One does not need to care what the anarchists think.

So live that you won't care a rap if there isn't any aspirin in the house.

We have heard some nasty gossipers pull their poison, but when those same babies got into court they howled like stuck pigs when their stuff was printed as evidence. There is a difference between just yapping about someone and having real evidence.

She was only a sale-blower's daughter, but she pulled a good crack now and then.

Mrs. Charlie Chaplin says she may marry a man who is a villain in the movies. It seems to us she thought Charley was about as big a villain as any one could be and he did not play such parts in the movies either.

About the only time some bimbos have any time to themselves is when they are in jail—and then some one has to hand it to them.

There is a law along the border between the United States and Mexico that compels all Americans to get back into this country by 6 o'clock each evening. In order that Americans can fully enjoy the things to be had in Mexico on New Year's eve this year authorities have extended the time for coming back to 9:30 that night. A very tidy jag can be accumulated in three and a half hours.

YOU TOLD ON THE OTHER FELLOW AND NOW YOU CAN'T LOAF WITH HIM

There are perhaps half a dozen married men in New Castle who can enjoy social life together—who can plan a trip together, or openly associate with one another without using business as an alibi.

The others are afraid of their wives.

In some unguarded moment, whether confessing or boasting, each of them has told his wife about his former life and the good times he had with male friends.

As a result, his wife thinks these friends are an evil influence. She thinks her husband has reformed, but the other men seem wicked still and she is afraid to have him associate with them.

Of course each wife is jealous of her man's male friends, as she is jealous of the business that keeps him down town; but the chief cause of her objection to them is the fear that they will contaminate her angelic mate.

Of course the hypocritical rascal is just as full of cussedness as any of the other men, but he pretends piety to keep his wife's good opinion; and when he gossips about the meanness of other men and his wife says she is proud of his goodness, he probably feels very righteous and superior.

There are not more than half a dozen homes in which the man and wife don't discuss and denounce the faults of other men; and by the time a wife has heard every man in town accused of wickedness, she reaches the conclusion that her husband can't associate with any of them without losing his virtue.

I know one man who has no social life at all and kids himself with the belief that he dodges it to avoid aligning himself with this or that faction, whereas he keeps away from men except in matters of business because he has heard his wife cuss all of them and is afraid of her tongue if he should show a fondness for one of them.

Men loaf down town on a pretense of having business when there is no business, and they do it because they need male companionship and are afraid to seek it in any other way.

I can remember but two adult parties in 15 years at which males were present. There is no social life in the village, except among the ladies, and the explanation is that the wives are afraid to have their pure and undefiled husbands associate with the wicked, and the men accept the situation meekly rather than start a riot.

The only men who have any social life are the few who aren't scared of their wives.

Father: "I just paid the doctor another ten dollars on his bill."

Mother: "Oh, goodie; two more payments and the baby's ours."

We are a good suggestor. We would suggest that greeting cards be sent out at New Year's instead of Christmas. This would keep thousands of tons of mail out of the post-office when the congestion is at the limit and getting a greeting card at the glad new year would really mean as much as getting it at Christmas time when people's minds are on other things.

Congress has been asked to appropriate $45,000 to pay for the inauguration of Mr. Hoover. That looks as if it was going to be quite a show and we will try and go down then to see how they spend the coin. We surely will be allowed to look at the parade anyhow.

Salesman: "I'd like to speak to the master of the house."

Maid: "Sorry, but I've just got him to sleep and put him in the crib."

A guest in a hotel complained to the manager: "Your restaurant is conducted in a very rotten way. At lunch today I found a hair in the ice cream, a hair in the honey and a hair in the apple sauce."

"Well, you see," the manager explained, "the hair in the ice cream came from the shaving of the ice. The hair in the honey came from the comb. But I can't for the life of me understand about the hair in the apple sauce, for I bought those apples myself and they were all Baldwins."

Canada has just let the contract for two of its first real big war vessels. That don't look as if peace was going to reign forever in this vale of tears. Maybe its just to scare the livers out of those who feel like starting a rough house.

Still, there's always plenty of parking space on Easy Street.

The Hints and Dints man got Kansas City on the radio last night. You know what happened to us when we really tried to get Kansas City last spring.

In states where they have laws that provide for life imprisonment for those convicted four times for crimes, they put many more in for life as habitual criminals than they convict as murderers. Jenny (in department store): "Oh look at the pretty bathing suit."

When we have something real good and sentimental in this column we never hear any comment, but when there is an item a bit off color that a depraved mind can misconstrue, everybody has something to say about it and want to call the police to get us. Humans is humans! Oh wham de doodle wham!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

"DE WORLD DO MOVE."

Early in 1907 E. H. Harriman expressed the opinion that the railroad locomotives had about reached their limit in size and drawing power "under existing conditions" and suggested that the railroads might have to widen their track gauge to 6 feet in order to continue the increase in trainloads, their one great factor of economy in movement costs. At that time the largest locomotive in the country weighed substantially less than a half a million pounds, including tender, coal and water.

Within little more than a decade locomotives were in use weighing 900,000 pounds and now the Northern Pacific has ordered some to weigh 1,081,000 pounds, or considerably more than twice the maximum of Mr. Harriman's day.

In 1886 the chief engineer of the Baltimore & Ohio resolved to build a bridge over the Susquehanna River which would be good for 100 years. He wrote to executives of all the leading railroads, asking their opinion as to the limit of locomotive weight for the coming century. The consensus was that it would not go above 160,000 pounds before 1936, so he built the bridge accordingly. In the early years of this century, it was carrying locomotives of 170,000 pounds. It was a good bridge, but in 1910 at the age of 24 years, it had to be replaced because it was "too light."

MAN'S CURIOSITY

Mrs. Mary Wallace Dina, a former Cincinnati woman, is building the finest observatory in the world and will present it as a gift to the French nation. This observatory and its marvelous equipment of telescopes and instruments will cost more than six million dollars. Hundreds of French soldiers have been employed in making a road to the top of a mountain where the observatory is being built.

There is something almost pathetic in the eagerness of the little human being to see beyond the stars, to find out about his world and its little place in the vast spaces of the universe. Through it all he hopes to learn something of himself.

WHY BIGNESS?

Addressing a Rotary club the other day, the speaker said as follows: "May it please God that we shall not have a million population in Cincinnati in 10 years, in 20 years, in 30 years.

"Offhand, most of us would perhaps be proud to see Cincinnati have a million people, or to be as great a metropolis as London.

"But, my friends, that seems to me to be pure paganism—modern paganism—that values material things above the things of the spirit.

"We wish to grow only normally and assimilate our citizenship into our high ideals, our community life."

This is good talk, especially for some Rotary and other luncheon clubs to hear. The passion for bigness is like the savage's desire to lead by strength and the stoutest tomahawk, to wear the most feathers and to put his paint on the thickest.

The most civilized people are never those who are whooping it up for the most population.

REMORSE

Since man became even half way civilized he has had periods in which he suffered from remorse. He has gone about very low in his mind because of some mistake or other committed the day before or the night before. One of the most intelligent men known to the writer once said: "I have eliminated remorse. If I find I have made a mistake, I set it down as an error in judgment and let it go at that."

There are few things that so contribute to serenity of spirit as the capacity for checking off mistakes without indulging in the wear and tear of the ravaging emotion of remorse.

Believers In Old Thrift Maxims Think Ford's Advice Dangerous

Manufacturer's Suggestion That Youth Spend Its Money On Self Improvement Attacked And Defended In Comment

Remarks by Henry Ford which have been interpreted as advice to youth to avoid the accumulation of money bring sharp criticism from those who feel that such a suggestion is likely to be misunderstood and harmful even though it is pointed out that the manufacturer was far from advising wasteful expenditures. Some observers, however, think Mr. Ford has done his generation a service by "with refreshing candor," as it appears to the COLUMBUS EVENING DISPATCH, deprecating "the old, moth-eaten advice of the successful to the rising generation---work hard and save.'" "This" says The Dispatch "always has been more or less flimsy advice by which comfortable men who have made their pile impress upon the public that they have been imbued with an irresistible force before which all obstacles have had to give way, plowing their way to success by dint of superior virtues, among which are sobriety of outlook, strength of purpose and unusual intelligence. *The contribution of useful and valuable service to humanity is the true epitome of success."

"He summed up the whole recipe for the boy's success in life," asserts the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER. "He tells the boys they will never 'get anywhere' without work. He never knew a young man worth five cents who would not work." The BUTTE MONTANA STANDARD holds that "he does not belittle the spirit of thrift, but as a matter of fact he glorifies it," and that "he was thrifty for a purpose." Of both Ford and Edison, who was mentioned by the former, The Standard remarks: "They did not save their money but they made it serve them."

Less favorable is the comment of the NEW YORK SUN, which summarizes its views with the statement: "It is pretty hard to imagine even a clever young man being able to copy Henry Ford in either word or deed. The truth is that he is one of a limited company licensed to speak nonsense without penalty." The Sun also warns: "The improvident will not notice what he added--that money not saved should be spent on things that improve a boy. Even with this qualification the remark sounds more like Ford the historian than Ford the manufacturer."

"It looks as though Mr. Ford, in the light of past homilies from him, had thrown into reverse gear," remarks the TULSA WORLD, and the SALINA JOURNAL feels that "the statement is unfortunate," offering the explanation: "It is probable that Mr. Ford meant that merely saving a fraction of daily wages would never accumulate wealth. But he didn't say it that way. It is the money thus saved, saved by a struggle, that becomes the little pile that enables one to seize opportunity when it comes."

"When Mr. Ford cites Mr. Edison's case," the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL thinks "he cites the case of a genius ---one boy in generations, driven on by a force within him that he could not have stayed. Not many boys are so earnest, so moved by creative impulses." As to spending "to improve themselves," The Journal adds: "Not many boys or young men will understand how to do that. They more easily grasp the mandate, 'save'. For the bulk of young Americans moderate saving and the old plodding road to a competence is still the safer course." The KALAMAZOO GAZETTE agrees that "when normal youths spend freely they are quite likely to spend for things which, save by the most liberal stretch of the imagination, cannot be regarded as instruments of self-improvement."

Assuming that Mr. Ford "puts work and a disposition to learn and get on far above saving," the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT states: "Benjamin Franklin would not quarrel with Mr. Ford on this last point, for his early career shows that he knew how to invest what little money he had. But neither, we fancy, would Mr. Ford deny that the successful and ambitious boy, in order to have a little money to spend for his own improvement, must save it first."

"Ford had no thought of preaching the gospel of extravagance," in the judgment of the SCRANTON TIMES, however. "He was simply protesting against the habit of those who hoard their money when they could do more good for themselves and the world by spending it." The BINGHAMTON PRESS comments: "What Mr. Ford meant to say, it is safe to venture, is that it is better for young men and young women to spend money as they go along for information and training, for things of the mind and the spirit, than it is to make the saving of dollars a chief aim in life. There ought to be moderation in the practice of thrift as there ought to be moderation in all things. Don't squander! Don't hoard! There's a common-sense middle ground."

Mr. Ford, in giving advice to the boys, ought to have the chance to finish a sentence," advises the SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS, with the interpretation: "The statement creating such trouble just now is merely the front porch to the real edifice in words he erected. The rest of the sentence was 'for something to improve himself.' And that changes the whole meaning. He was trying to urge, not waste, not extravagance and improvidence, but real investment, immediate investment, investment continuous of what the boy gets in something really worth while, the equipment to improve himself. Mr. Ford is all right—except as a writer."

"Mr. Ford has risen to the heights of the industrial world," says the ROANOKE TIMES, "through the application of sound principles. His advice is entitled to be received with respect, for he has demonstrated an ability to make money second to no other living man."

Comparing his thrift statement with another made recently by Mr. Ford, the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE observes: "He believes that eventually mankind will know what is transpiring on other planets. * * * This globe, he says, has been inhabited by intelligent peoples millions of times. Ancients far beyond our historians probably had airplanes, automobiles and other scientific equipment. Mystics, of course, have talked somewhat in the same strain, but Mr. Ford was supposed to be eminently practical. In this instance he is doubly progressive, seeing amazingly far in both directions. Still, as pointed out, it is much safer than indulging in any word that might be caught up as against reasonable saving of money by a boy."

FLU
is now Epidemic!

Compared with 1918, this epidemic, so far, is mild; and yet, in spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency demand for more and more Vicks VapoRub. Over 432,000 jars are now being produced daily.

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

1. AS A PREVENTIVE

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils. Also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors. This helps to ward off Germ-infection.

2. IF A COLD STARTS

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot, wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is throughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bedcovering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks also acts through the skin like a poultice. Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks. Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal. Vicks is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely, as often as needed, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

Hold Suspect For Robbery Attempt Here

A man giving the name of Stanley Holtz and claiming Youngstown as his most recent place of abode and Butler avenue, Pittsburgh previous to that, was picked up this morning about 2:35 o'clock at the Pennsylvania railroad station by Officer Emery, for his alleged connection with the robbery attempt at the Coney Island Lunch on West Washington street.

Since being held in the police station and being interviewed by Detective John Young, Chief of Police C. C. Horner and others, he has admitted having been in the place with the object of robbing. He also admits having been in the place about midnight and having secured a cup of coffee.

It was shortly after two o'clock this morning, when John Fee, owner of the place was aroused by a noise from the rear of the place as if some one was atempting to get in. Mr. Fee looked out from his second floor apartment and saw this man at the back door. He fired at him twice with his gun but missed him.

The police were notified and the suspect was picked up a short time later. He has been seen loitering about the West Washington street district for several days.

BELIEVE BANDITS CAUSE OF WRECK OF 'CRACK TRAIN'

railment occurred, precipitating three of the loosened cars down a 20-foot embankment.

An inspection of the spot where the cars flew off the rails, according to Deputy Sheriff J. E. Farley of San Marino, revealed that the spikes of the first rail on the curve had been torn up and that the rail had been rolled over.

Robbery Motive

This led to the belief that a gang of bandits, intending to stop the train and rob it, had caused the wreck. No other theory, company officials declared, seemed plausible.

Motive for robbery was seen in the fact that the crack train carried a quantity of mail in one of its baggage cars, although No. 2 is not a regular mail carrier. The two baggage cars, attached to the train, as well as the locomotive and the smoking car, remained on the rails.

Thirty Injured

HESPERIA, Cal., Dec. 27.—Thirty persons were believed to have been injured near here today when the crack Chicago-bound passenger train Missionary of the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe was wrecked by a band of outlaws as it sped around a curve on a down grade.

More than 200 sleeping passengers narrowly escaped death when five Pullman cars and one private car of the fast eastbound flyer flew off the tracks.

Among the injured were Mrs. F. J. Mackee of Los Angeles, wife of F. J. Mackee, assistant general manager of the railroad, and W. H. Burbage, Santa Fe attorney at Winslow, Ariz. Mackee, whose private car dashed off the rails, was unhurt.

Council And Hodge Have Conference On Damage Claims

Session At City Hall; No Result Is Announced By Councilmen

J. R. Hodge and city councilmen today conferred in the private office of Mayor Gillespie. The viewers award to Hodge for property taken for the approach to the Neshannock creek bridge was discussed. No agreement was reached, it is reported.

The viewers awarded Hodge damages of $21,600. The city filed an appeal; likewise Hodge. The city presented a bond of $25,000, which may and may not be accepted.

It is said that Hodge would have agreed to accept the amount were certain other arrangements made. The city did not like the proposition presented by Hodge.

According to city officials the contractor constructing the bridge will proceed soon to build the approach on the Neshannock avenue side of the creek.

Monday workmen will commence pouring concrete on the Croton avenue abutment, it was stated today.

President On Hunting Trip

Coolidge Enjoys Hunt For Pheasants On Sapelo Island

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAPELO ISLAND, Ga., Dec. 27.—President Coolidge went hunting today for the second time in his life.

Here on Sapelo island for the Christmas holidays as the guest of Howard E. Coffin, the automobile manufacturer, the president decided this morning he would like to try his hand at hunting pheasants. Soon after breakfast he left the main island for Little Sapelo, making the trip by speedboat accompanied only by secret service men and a guide.

Like Sapelo, Little Sapelo gives one an impression of the tropics. Live oak hung with Spanish moss, palm and Palmetto, holly and mistletoe combine with the famous Georgia pine to make up a picturesque forest. Golden pheasant, wild peacock and deer make the island their home.

Only once before has Mr. Coolidge ever hunted. That was a month ago when he was spending the Thanksgiving holidays in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia and went out after quail one afternoon. The record of that day's hunt stood at five shots and five misses.

While the president was away, Mrs. Coolidge sat for a portrait, being executed by Frank O. Salisbury, the English artist. Salisbury accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge south and will do an oil of both for the New York Genealogical and Biographical society.

Kresge-Swaine Pastor Is Called To "Account"

Rev. Benjamin C. Dahms, Who Performed Kresge-Swaine Marriage, Is On Carpet

Methodist Episcopal Church Conference Will Ask Minister For Explanation

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.—Rev. Benjamin C. Dahms, pastor of the Mountain Home Methodist Episcopal church, will be "called to account" before the annual conference of the M. E. church next March for performance of the marriage ceremony of Sebastian S. Kresge, multi-millionaire store owner, and his third wife, Clara K. Swaine. The minister of the little Monroe County church will be "brought before the members of the annual conference for whatever action they may choose to take," Bishop Ernest G. Richardson of the Eastern Pennsylvania district revealed Wednesday.

"I wrote Rev. Dahms asking for a report of his part in performing the marriage ceremony," Bishop Richardson said.

"I have received his answer, but I do not believe it would be wise at this time to reveal the text of the correspondence until it has been presented to the members of the annual conference. A minister's character is not in my keeping."

"The annual conference always takes up the matters pertaining to alleged violations of the church laws," added the Bishop.

"The conferees hear the case and mete out the punishment.

"It is my duty, however, to call any alleged infractions to the attention of the members of the conference. I shall do that."

The marriage of the chain store magnate and Mrs. Swaine, the divorced wife of an Easton, Md., chicken farmer, by a Methodist Episcopal pastor, aroused a storm of criticism among M. E. church followers. The church canons prohibit the marriage of divorced persons unless the person or persons to be married have obtained their divorce on the grounds of infidelity. A recent church bulletin called attention to the rule.

Mr. Kresge's third marriage was announced at Stroudsburg on November 27th just a month after it had taken place. The couple left immediately after the wedding and are reported to be still in the south where they went for their honeymoon.

Narrow Escape Of Passengers On Pennsylvania Train

Engineer of a Pennsylvania passenger train en route from the west brought his train to a stop at New Galilee after an axle on the pony truck had broken. He feared derailment of the entire train for more than five miles back, when he first discovered the cause.

The engineer noticed the crippled condition of his engine while passing through Enon Valley, but because of the attachment of the air brakes was unable to bring his engine to a stop.

"I feared every second that the engine would take to a ditch," said the engineer, speaking to a friend at the New Galilee station.

After the train had been halted another engine was sent from Conway yards and the disabled engine cut off. The train then moved on into Pittsburgh and few passengers realized the close call with death they had.

Less risk of "flu" if you do two things

Precautions you can take immediately

"THERE is no use worrying every time you draw a breath for fear you will breathe in some influenza germs. Do the following two things and forget it: First, keep your nose and throat well protected, and second, keep your system in good condition. The chances are you will avoid contagion.

"As a first precaution, I am prescribing Mistol to all my patients, as it protects the nose and throat against the germs of influenza. Use it every morning, the first thing, before you go out. Again when you come home at night. Don't be afraid to use it freely; it will do no harm.

"Just tilt your head back and apply Mistol with the special dropper which comes with every package, until you feel it trickling down your throat. It will clear your head wonderfully, relieve any inflammation; it will help dry up a running nose. It has a soothing effect on the throat, too. Gargle it for a sore throat or a little irritating cough. Above all, it protects the nose and throat against the germs of influenza.

"This is the first precaution; now for the second: Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, weakening of the system due to purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable; therefore, many doctors are prescribing Nujol. It is not a laxative or cathartic but a pure, natural substance that helps your system function at all times the way nature intended it to. Like pure water, it is harmless. In no case does Nujol cause weakening of the system. Take it night and morning; it will keep you in first class condition. You will have a far better chance to resist "flu" or any other diseases that are going the rounds.

"The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against colds and influenza. Start this wise twofold precaution now. Don't delay. Put worry out of your mind. The chances are good that you will escape influenza and colds. Nujol and Mistol are on sale at all druggists."

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

CARRIER'S BEST FRIEND—SENSE AND SIGHT

Carrier Pigeon for a moment seemed a bit put out.

"Now why in the world did you have to ask me that, Boy?" said he. "Don't you know that is the most embarrassing question that you can put to a pigeon?

"Haven't you ever done anything without knowing how you did it? But there, how silly of me to feel cross! Only I get so tired of having everyone ask, the very moment they meet me:—'Well, Carrier, how do you find your way back home, anyhow?'

"Why, only the other day I flew into old Jim Crow, who lives over in the woods, and although the tip of my wing only brushed his and never hurt him a bit, he was as hateful about it as could be. He cawed so angrily my ears ached for some time afterward and gave me a rough jab in the side."

"'Beaks and bills! Why don't you keep out of folk's way or do you never use that famous eyesight of yours for anything except to search out landmarks?

"'There was not a bit of excuse for your bumping into me, Carrier Pigeon, and I have my doubts whether you really can see as well as everyone thinks you do. I believe you have been fooling us all this time—that my eyesight is every bit as good as yours.

"'Tell me the secret, Pigeon, and I'll bet you a grasshopper that I could find my way home just as well as you do, if I am only a crow.

"'I wouldn't have to be carried away from home, either, as you do. Thank goodness, there is nothing weak about me. I could use my own wing to take me away from home, as well as to bring me back, and be none the worse for it, either.

"'I am no spoiled pet of any Two-Legs! Come now! Out with the secret, Pigeon! What is it besides your eyes that helps you home?"

"And do you know, I could not answer Jim Crow—not because I did not want to—if I had had a secret I would have told him if it would have done him any good—but I really didn't know the answer to his question.

"I told that old bird the truth, and Jim Crow called me 'stupid' and said he didn't think half as much of me as he had before and then he flew away. I was glad to see him go, and now you come along, Boy, and ask me the very same thing."

WIDOW OF HUNTER SHOT BY MISTAKE FOR GAME GETS $500

December Is New Castle Month On Carnegie Co. Annual Safety Calendar

Drawing Of Miss Angela Windish Of Senior High School Is Used

Calendar Issued For 1929 Is Most Pretentious As Yet Presented

For the sixth consecutive year, the Carnegie Steel Company has issued its Safety Calendar and like the ones that have gone before, this one seems to be just a little better than its predecessors. A little better art perhaps in the monthly posters, a little more craftmanship on the coverpiece and certainly more on the back of the monthly leaves for each one has something of useful information.

The Safety Calendar idea is one that originated with the Carnegie Steel Company, but to get closer home originated in New Castle, with J. Clarence Miller as the father of the idea. Dr. Ben G. Graham, then superintendent of school shares in the credit also for the idea was worked out between these two men.

School Posters

It was Mr. Miller's idea that a calendar of twelve leaves with each leaf bearing a prize winning poster would be an aid to the safety movement. Dr. Graham agreed that the poster idea was a splendid one and that the school children of the city would find much opportunity for self expression in the making of the posters.

Accordingly, the various art classes in the schools of the city were invited to enter the competition and the other Carnegie Steel city school did the same. Judges were appointed in the various cities and the best posters of each city selected for the calendar, one being taken from each city in which the Carnegie Steel Company had a plant.

In 1924 the first Safety Calendar made its appearance and immediately met with universal favor among employes and the public alike. Since that time it has appeared annually, and by now the annual poster contest is one which the school children welcome.

Miss Angela Windish Wins

Miss Angela Windish, a senior in the senior high school was again the winner among the New Castle art students, and also won in 1928. Her poster this year adorns the December leaf of the calendar and is a take off of an old nursery rhyme, in which safety is featured.

The January leaf is decorated with the drawing of Charles Hilliard of Clairton, Pa., the February leaf with the poster of Alton Kemp, of South Youngstown, O., the March leaf with the poster of Arthur Jacobson, of Hays, Pa., near the Homestead Works, the April leaf with the poster of John Gordon of North Braddock, Pa., the May leaf with the poster of Anna Kundrat of Mingo Junction, O., the June leaf with the poster of Joseph Puskac of Bellaire, O., the July leaf with the poster of Wesley Peckman of Duquesne, Pa., the August leaf with the poster of Clarabelle Dilley of Sharpsville, Pa., the September leaf with the poster of Sara Jane McVey of Clairton, Pa., the October leaf with the poster of Alice Keller of North Braddock, Pa., the November leaf with the poster of Anna Louise Altvater of Aspinwall, Pa., and the December leaf with the poster of Miss Angela Windish of New Castle. Hence the New Castle lassie's poster will be kept until the year is out, in case the other leaves are destroyed.

The cover piece of the calendar is adorned with a handsome picture of the Safety Trophy for 1929. The 1929 trophy is a sterling silver replica of a Bessemer converter with a figure of a steel worker in bronze at each end of the trophy. One of these figures is that of a master steel worker of Homestead, Pa., while the other is that of Isaac E. Anwyl of New Castle. An account of Mr. Anwyl's record appears in other columns of today's issue. Beneath the figure on the front of the composition appears the name of the company cast in the bronze and a larger shield or plate which will carry the name of the winner in perpetuum at the end of the year. Silver plates are around the statuette to show the names of the monthly winners. The converter supports and accessories of sterling silver rest on a bronze plinth oblong in form, 34x25 inches in size.

Trophy To Winner

At the end of the year 1929, the plant of the Carnegie Steel Company making the best safety record for the year will be awarded the trophy and each year sees every plant of the company striving for the honor of winning the coveted trophy.

The back of each leaf of the calendar carries information of value to the owner of the calendar. The January leaf carries on the back some interesting facts on finance, warnings against fake stocks, a table showing the amount one will have at 65 if certain amounts are saved each month and left at compound interest. A household budget form is on the bottom and one of these is on each leaf, for the month.

February's leaf shows a food calendar showing how to balance menus for the home, the value of various foods and combinations showing ideal food values for the family.

March enlarges upon the food calendar idea and also carries a number of recipes for wholesome food combinations.

April carries a list of household remedies, emergency measures in case of accident in the home, how to remove foreign bodies from the eyes, ears and throat, and a list of stain removers.

May carries a compendium of useful information among it some instructions on how to forecast the weather conditions.

June carries a horoscope with the peculiarities of men and women born under the different signs.

July has on it a dictionary of dreams while August carries a table of interesting facts with cooking weights and measures.

September contains 40 points of expense to consider when one is building, while October contains a continuation of this line and also first aid to electric troubles. November has instructions for the making of curtains and December contains a summary of the budgets for the entire year.

The calendar is a most complete one, by far the best of its kind and will undoubtedly be appreciated by those fortunate enough to get copies.

For Colds —

How many people you know end their colds with Bayer Aspirin! And how often you've heard of its prompt relief of sore throat or tonsilitis. No wonder millions take it for colds, neuralgia, rheumatism; and the aches and pains that go with them. The wonder is that anyone still worries through a winter without these tablets! They relieve quickly, yet have no effect whatever on the heart. Friends have told you Bayer Aspirin is marvelous; doctors have declared it harmless. Every druggist has it, with proven directions. Why not put it to the test?

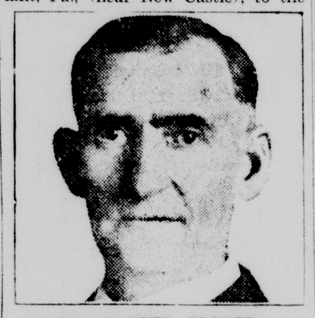
Ended Stomach Misery; Toned Up His System

Engineer Vastly Benefited By Ten Herbs; Headaches Gone; Nerves Quieted.

"I can honestly recommend Ten Herbs to anyone suffering with stomach trouble or in need of a first-class tonic," was the recent statement of Mr. Samuel M. Cooper, Route 2, Volant, Pa., (near New Castle), to the



MR. SAMUEL COOPER

Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this famous new herbal medicine.

"My health had been poor for some time," continued Mr. Cooper, who is a stationary engineer. "I suffered a great deal with my stomach. I had indigestion, and food did not seem to do me much good. Gas made me bloat and caused me to retch after eating. I was very nervous, and my head would ache. At times dizziness came on me until I could hardly walk. There were pains in my back and loins, and I had to arise several times during the night, disturbing my rest, which I needed for my day's work.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the papers and made up my mind to try it. I am glad that I started using your medicine, for it relieved my stomach trouble. Gas no longer forms, and that bloated feeling has left me. My appetite has been restored, and I can eat a hearty meal without fear of distress afterwards. Nervousness has been relieved, and dizziness has disappeared. Headaches have passed away, and I no longer have that tired-out, run-down feeling. I get a good night's rest, as my sleep is not broken by having to arise like I used to. I feel fit for work at all times."

Ten Herbs has been a blessing to a great number of men and women of this section by ending disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Its wonderful natural ingredients have a cleansing and beneficial effect on the whole system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Big Ulcer All Healed

"Now I Can Walk" Says Mrs. Southcott

"Here is another letter that makes me proud," says Peterson. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"It seems like a miracle, but it's true, every word of it.

I know it because I get similar letters almost every day from people who have used Peterson's ointment for old sores, eczema and piles.

"Is it any wonder I am proud?"

Dear Sirs:

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 6½ inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again.

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Lyndonville, N. Y. Generous box 35 cents.

Anwyl Given Unique Honor

ONE OF TWO MEN SELECTED FOR HONOR

I. E. ANWYL

Appreciation for meritorious service finds expression in many ways, but to Isaac E. Anwyl of 107 North Mercer street, well known employe of the Carnegie Steel Company has been given an honor that is most unusual. A figure of Mr. Anwyl has been cast in bronze and is one of two supporting figures on the 1929 Safety Trophy o fthe Carnegie Steel Company which will be given to the plant turning in the best safety record for the year 1929.

The distinction is an unusual one and goes to two men of the entire steel corporation, the other one being a master steel worker in the Homestead plant. The figure of Mr. Anwyl is at one end, and the figure of the Homestead worker at the other end of the sterling silver replica of a Bessemer Converter which is the center piece of the 1929 trophy.

Steel Man For Years

Mr. Anwyl has been a steel worker for many years. On August 19, 1890 he entered the employment of the Columbus Works, and on September 5, 1904 came to New Castle where he was made a blower in the New Castle Works.

His work has always been in the converting department of the steel mill and for some years he has been the foreman of the converting mill of the New Castle Works of the Carnegie Steel Mill. He is prominent in the work of the Order of the Mystic Shrine and is an officer of the Lawrence Caravan of Syria Shrine.

The Carnegie Steel Company originated the idea of putting industrial safety on a competitive basis and each year puts into competition among its plants, a Safety Trophy designed and executed by one of the foremost silversmiths of the country, and the composition usually symbolic of the industry.

The trophy for 1929 is the eighth that has been presented and is an actual Bessemer Converter in miniature, perfect in every detail, and fashioned after a converter at one of the principal plants of the company.

The converter, supports and accessories of sterling silver, rest on a bronze plinth oblong in form, 34x25 inches, bearing silver shields designed to carry the names of the monthly winners. The illustration shows a side of the converter, that the figures of the men might better be viewed.

These figures adorn the front and rear of the composition and are bronze statuettes of two of the master steel workers. Beneath the figure on the front of the composition appears the name of the company cast in the bronze, and a larger shield or plate which will carry the name of the winner in perpetuum at the end of the year.

Coverpiece of Calendar

The picture of the 1929 Safety Trophy is done in a sepia tone and is the cover for the 1929 Safety Calendar.

The object of this calendar is to broadcast the gospel of safety, and to more directly instill into the youth of the land, the lessons of carefulness, and to keep before them the hazards of our daily life.

The calendar is the sixth one that has been presented by the Carnegie Steel Company. It accurately illustrates the thought and execution of ideas of boys and girls in public and parochial schools between the ages of 6 and 18 years.

A few years ago in the schools of cities or towns where the Carnegie Steel Company has its manufacturing plants, the idea of a Safety Poster Contest presented to the school principals was readily adopted, and various cash prizes were presented to those whose posters were selected by three judges. Each community had its own contest and its own judges, and besides cash prizes, honorable mention was given others. The idea has received such hearty response and co-operation each year that the poster contest and calendar has become an annual feature.

The illustrations are not all first prize winners, but all are winners of cash prizes or honorable mention. The selection for this calendar was made from more than 10,000 posters. The General Safety Committee of the company made the selection with the paramount idea of having each manufacturing plant represented, and covering as many safety reproductions of the drawings made by the children. Some have been reduced in size, while others have been retained in their original size, but no material change in line or color has been made by the manufacturer's artist, or the printer.

TAX CARD SYSTEM UP TO COMMISSIONERS

Within a short time County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley will take up with the board of county commissioners the advisability of installing in Lawrence county the card notification system for county taxes.

In the past three weeks hundreds of citizens have asked that this system be adopted, some of the requests going to the county treasurer, others to the board of county commissioners.

If the plan is adopted it would mean that taxpayers would be notified of their county tax indebtedness in the same manner as are city taxpayers. For some time taxpayers have asked why this system could not be adopted in the county and thus avoid inconvenience to the taxpayers.

At the present time two of the commissioners, P. O. Elder and Calvin C. Boyd, are confined to their homes with flu, but are expected to return within a week. When they do return Miss Smiley will confer with them with a view toward getting the approval for the installation of the system.

Money Order Forms Reported Stolen

Postal authorities at Carlton, Mercer county, have notified officials at the New Castle office that on the night of December 25, money order forms bearing numbers 10880 to 11000, inclusive were stolen from their office. It is their belief that the stolen forms will be forged and attempts made to cash them, possibly in a city nearby.

Assistant Postmaster J. G. Leslie today stated that merchants of New Castle and other surrounding towns should be on their guard for these stolen forms. Should anything develop they are asked to notify the local post office at once.

United States Has Approximately Half Of World's Highways

United States has 46 per cent of the world's roads, states Bernard Hanlon in quoting figures received from automobile association statistics which have been obtained from recent surveys.

In the entire land of the Americas, covering the western hemisphere, 54 per cent of the roads are found. This hemisphere has nearly twice the road mileage of Europe.

France, Russia, Canada, Australia, United Kingdom, Germany, Poland and Italy follow the United States in the order named in road mileage.

The figures show that the Americans have many times the roads that are found in the eastern hemisphere countries, and the United States leads all other countries and kingdoms, and has nearly half of the world's roads.

Essay Winner Is Overjoyed, Will Get $1,000 Cash

(International News Service)

PALO ALTO, Cal., Dec. 27.—"This is going to be the best Christmas present I ever received!"

This was the comment Wednesday of a 16-year-old high school boy, Malcolm D. Almack, when he was advised that he was the winner of the $5,000 school prize in the Durant prohibition essay contest. By his victory, Almack receives $1,000 and his school—the Palo Alto Union High School—receives $4,000.

Almack hasn't received his check yet, but he was told to expect it before the first of the year.

"No, I didn't expect to win it," he said.

Almack is the son of Prof. J. T. Almack of the Stanford School of Education. He is a junior at the Palo Alto Union High School and is interested principally in science. Swimming is his only sport.

Miners' Families In Need Of Aid

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Additional relief funds running into thousands of dollars for the poverty stricken families of idle coal miners are expected to result from the Prince of Wales' dramatic appeal on the radio Tuesday night.

The Prince was on his way to Buckingham Palace to take Christmas dinner with his mother, Queen Mary, and his brothers and sister, when he stopped his journey to broadcast his request. He painted a vivid picture of the sufferings in the families of miners where, it is estimated, nearly 1,000,000 persons are destitute.

Mathematic Issue Finally Settled

Quick And Accurate Method Found By Coast Professor In Solving Factors

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 27.—For many years the world's greatest mathematicians have sought a quick and accurate method of finding the factors of big numbers, a riddle of the universe which seemed impossible of solution.

But the riddle has been solved. And the man who solved it, Drrick N. Lehmer, professor of mathematics at the University of California and associate professor of Carnegie Institution, has thus placed himself in the front rank of famous scientists.

Professor Lehmer has devised a semi-mechanical method by which the factors of numbers up to 2,000,000,000 may be found within a few minutes.

After four years of the most painstaking and intensive work, the Berkeley man perfected a method by which stenciled sheets of paper are used. By laying one sheet over another and observing where the holes match, the answer sought is found.

Professor Lehmer was even obliged to manufacture the bronze plate by means of which the stencils are made. Working in the attic of his home, he drilled each tiny hole with his own hands.

Poultry Raisers Complete Fine Year States County Agent

Two Clubs Sponsored By Farm Bureau During Year Among Raisers

According to the report of H. R. McCulloch, county agent, for the past year of the work done in Lawrence county by poultry raisers, there are two poultry record clubs in the county, which have a membership totalling 25.

Eighteen meetings took place in these two clubs and general poultry raising featured the discussion at these meetings. A poultry specialist makes addresses to the members at these gatherings.

Ninety-eight different poultry raisers in the county were given specific aid in housing and management by the local farm bureau during the year.

There were also two poultry management demonstration farms in the county which concluded their second year. The meetings at these farms had to do with the growing of chicks and the selecting of breeders.

There has been an unusual spurt in poultry circles in Lawrence county during the past year, states the county agent, and all indications are that the coming year will find an even greater number of poultry raisers on local farms.

(International News Service)

VICTORVILLE, Cal., Dec. 27.—One man was seriously injured and several other passengers hurt when the eastbound Sante Fe Train No. 22, went off the track and over an embankment one and a half miles east of Hesperia early this morning, according to reports reaching here.

According to advices the spikes had been pulled along a length of rail on a downgrade curve. The report was unconfirmed five pullman cars and a private car belonging to assistant superintendent McKee toppled over the 20 foot grade. The locomotive, baggage car and smoker did not leave the track.

Ambulances and a physician were being rushed to the scene of the wreck. Special trains were being made up in Los Angeles to pick up the passengers and take them to their destinations.

Y. M. C. A. Fetes Local Newsies

Thirty newsboys attended the first newsboy dinner and recreational period which took place at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening from 6 to 8 p. m.

The lads enjoyed a big dinner in the Y cafeteria and then spent the remainder of the time swimming and on the gym floor.

This was the first meeting of the year for the newsboys of the city at the local Y. M. C. A. The organization plans to make it a monthly affair for the newsies.

SKATING GOOD AT CEMENT DAM

New Castle skaters are availing themselves of the opportunity of ice skating at the Cement dam situated near the New Castle-Butler highway. Last night about 50 people were at the dam and enjoyed an evening of skating. The ice is very smooth and affords god skating. The skating is very good as far as the Weingartner residence.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" IN COURT

Books Are Taboo With New Castle Folks Now

Why give books for Christmas?

Perhaps there are so many people that they have no need to use the public library. At least figures at the New Castle libraries indicate that fewer people want to read during the Yule week.

The circulation of books at the public library has dropped approximately one third for the week while the reading room attendance by actual check has dropped slightly less.

According to the statement from the library, it is the same occurance every year. Reading room attendance soars at the approach of the winter months and the start of school but at Christmas time, there is a decided slump.

One reason probably for the decline is because of the schools being closed. Many students use the library in obtaining materials for special papers in classes and naturally this is not in vogue during Christmas week.

The thought of most is that people are just too busy with other things during Christmas week to bother about reading which within all probabilities is true.

New Hudson-Essex Cars Announced

Cars Go On Display At Whieldon Motor Company Today

Essex, a 70-mile-an-hour car; Hudson, more than an 80-mile-an-hour car; roomier and beautiful body designs; much added equipment and price reductions of $50 to $200 a car, are the features of the Hudson-Essex program for 1929, as announced today. The company's statement, marking its 20th anniversary, declares it will build nearly as many cars in the first half of 1929 as in all of 1928—which was the biggest year in its history.

The 1929 Hudson with 64 improvements, and the new Essex, the Challenger, with 76, go on display today at the Whieldon Motor Co., local Hudson-Essex dealers, as part of a nation-wide program of simultaneous display.

Twenty-one body types are included in the new combined line, 10 more than in 1928, comprising the greatest variety Hudson has ever offered.

Essex prices start at $695, Hudson prices at $1,095.

Principal Essex improvements include four hydraulic shock absorbers as standard equipment, chromium plate, larger, roomier bodies and a larger, more powerful motor.

Essex power has been increased 25 per cent and the Hudson power 14 per cent. There is increased torque, or pull, at low speeds, which reflects directly on acceleration and gives greater power in hill climbing in both lines. The 1929 Hudson develops 92 horsepower and Essex, the Challenger, 55 horsepower.

There are fellows who pay 50 cents for a meal worth a dollar at a church bazaar and then brag about their contributions to charity.—The Sioux Falls Daily Argus-Leader.

Bernie Mack To Furnish Music

Is Gathering Jazz Band Together For Newsboys' Party New Year's

Bernie Mack's Jazz band will play for the newsies of New Castle and Lawrence county, New Year's afternoon at the Carnegie auditorium, it was stated today by Bernie. Annually Bernie gathers together an aggregation of good musicians boys who know how to "hit 'er up" and please the heart of the jazz lover.

Nina Strong, a dainty little miss who has scored triumphs with the newsboy audiences with her dancing has also consented to appear at the event. The Immigration Four, an inimitable aggregation will put on their act which is a scream from start to finish and Saldo and and Miss Virginia have also agreed to be present.

Steve Griffith and son, vocalist pianist and the little son one of the best drummers for his size, will be present as will Tom Cunningham who will render several vocal numbers. Earl Brown the colored comedian says he will be among those present and Herbie Jina and his Chinese fiddle will help to make the day eventful for the children.

Mrs. Sara Rinehart has consented to be the piano acompanist for the vocalists and within a day or two the entire vaudeville bill will be complete. No doubt some of the amateurs who have scored hits at local theaters will increase their fame by appearing at the show from which many have graduated into real positions behind the footlights.

In the meantime preparations for the "Big Feed' are going on. The committee has arranged with the Leslie restaurant to order tons of food for the 500 newsboys and girls who will be the guests of Sam Leff, Sol Leff and Mrs. Alex Silverman. A silent tribute to the late Alex Silverman will be paid by the newsboys.

The Leffs with the late Mr. Silverman were newsboys in their early days in Pittsburgh. They knew what it means to "hustle papers" during a cold, wintry, sleet-swept day and what it means to have the "inner man satisfied.' They have given five simlar banquets and the affair this New Year's will be the sixth banquet.

Persons who wish to enroll in the vaudeville show should send or phone their name, address, telephone number and nature of act to "Fritz and Simpson, care of The News or Leslie Hotel.' They will be assigned a place on the program. Chief of Police Horner has agreed to furnish police to keep the boys from the path of traffic danger.

Musical Comedy Is Financial Success

Receipts For "Show Boat" In New York In One Year $2,600,000, New Record

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A new world's record for a musical comedy success was established today when "Showboat", the American musical saga, completed its first year's run at the Ziegfeld Theater.

The returns for the past year have been $2,600,000—an alpine economic height for a musical production.

In bringing to reality his drama of a musical masterpiece which would sum up a colorful era in American history, Florenz Ziegfeld, the producer, daringly spent a fortune. "Showboat" costs $31,000 a week to operate plus $16,800 for the theater, and the costume bill reaches $100,000. The production cast was $250,000.

And despite the phenomenal financial success of the venture, the cost will not be quite paid for until well on into 1929.

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 27.—Governor Al Smith came to the Capitol Wednesday wearing a striking Christmas necktie, disposed of some state business and then announced that he could hardly wait until January 1 when, for the first time in six years, he will throw aside the robes of chief executive.

"I can hardly wait until the first of the year gets here," the governor said. "I've been at this governor job pretty steady for six straight years and I am anxious to see how it feels to be out of work for at least a few days."

Asked concerning his future plans, the governor replied:

"I am not going to give that a thought until some time after the first of the year."

Police Seeking Church Robbers

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Four bandits who invaded the rectory of St. Casimir's Catholic church, threatened two priests with death and escaped with $4,000 in Christmas collections, were being sought by police Wednesday.

The holdup was staged Tuesday night after the robbers had gained entrance to the rectory by posing as parshioners who wished to make contributions.

The Rev. E. S. Krakowski, assistant pastor, admitted the men when they rang the doorbell. The leader took a sawed-off shotgun from under his coat. Others produced revolvers.

They commanded the priest to open the safe. Just then the aged pastor, Rev. Elbert Furman, walked into the room. He tried to dissuade the bandits. They shoved him into a corner, threatening both priests with death if the safe wasn't opened at once.

Colored Churches Membership Gains

Almost 70,000 Members Are Added To Church Rolls In Ten Year Period

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—Negro churches and congregations have shown an astonishing growth in Pennsylvania during the past decade, the churches increasing from 527 in number in 1916 to 706 in 1926, an increase of 34 per cent, and the congregations of these colored churches increasing from a membership of 108,672 in 1916 to 177,532 in 1926, an increase of 63 per cent, according to the figures of a survey just completed by the census bureau of the department of commerce.

With the exception of the southern states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas, the Keystone state boasts more Negro churches than any other state in the Union, according to the survey.

In 1926, the Negro churches of the state reported expenditures of $2,751,938, and owned church edifices valued at $15,362,354, the survey reveals.

Expenditures of the Pennsylvania colored churches were greater than the Negro churches of any other state in the Union with the exception of North Carolina and Alabama, while the property of the Negro churches in the Keystone state was valued at a higher figure than the Negro church property in any other state in 1926.

Scientists Gather In New York Convention, Greatest In History

Five Thousand Of Leading Scientists Of Nation In Annual Conference

Many Interesting Problems Will Be Discussed; Subjects Outlined

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—America's leading scientists—about 5,000 of them—assembled here today for a six-day "open forum" in which problems, theories, deductions and discoveries relating to all phases of science will be authoritatively discussed. It is the greatest gathering in the history of the American association for the advancement of science, an organization which combined 128 societies and more than 16,000 members. Fully 2,000 speeches are to be made.

Dr. B. E. Livingston of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., the permenent secretary, outlined what he regards as the outstanding subjects that are to be delved into during the various discussions.

These problems are:

Subjects Outlined.

1.—The nature of the universe. What are other worlds like?

Dr. Harlow Sharpley, director of the Harvard college observatory, who was recently done outstanding work in locating the center of our milky way system will discuss this topic.

2.—The behavior of animals, including human beings.

Dr. William Morton Wheeler, professor of entomology of Harvard university, the foremost world authority on the biology of the social insects will outline his observations of their behavior.

3.—The history of the human race.

Professor Franz Boas of Columbia university, one of the world's great authorities on anthropology, will, in discussing this subject reveal how the American Indian got to this country.

4.—What is light?

Dr. Arthur H. Compton, of the University of Chicago, eminent physicist and recipient of the Nobel prize in physics for 1927, will demonstrate various types of electro-magnetic radiation, including radio waves, heat rays, light, ultra-violet x-rays and gamma rays. He will describe numerous experiments, mainly those involving interference, that show the wave characteristic of light.

Other subjects of interest will have to do with such subjects as the geological construction of continents, the economic status of scientific men and women, what 1928 brought in science, the psychology of clothing, what 1929 may bring to science, why we have traits, and studies in the sense of humor of one hundred vassar students.

Students Believe Prohibition Great Benefit To Nation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The drinking done by the younger generation attending high school and college is mostly at dances, parties, hotels and in the parked automobile, but even so, students themselves believe prohibition a benefit to the country.

Such a condition the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals finds as a result of a survey made among institutions of learning.

The board sent questionaires to 47 groups of 959 students. Of the students who replied to the questionaire, only 10 out of 872 said they doubted the wisdom of prohibition.

River Development Plan Is Proposed

Congressman Porter Says $800,000,000 Needed For Flood Control Measures

Allegheny And Monongahela Rivers Would Benefit By Plans Now Under Consideration

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 27.—Hydro-electric power development and flood control measures warrant expenditures of $800,000,000 by the United States government in the Allegheny and Monongahela river valleys, according to Congressman Stephen G. Porter in a statement to the local flood commission.

The report of the United States engineers calling for the erection of 17 storage reservoirs in the river valleys back in the mountains will be available for examination here within the next few days, Congressman Porter declared. The report will be open for examination in the office of Major Jarvis J. Bain, United States district engineer.

Contrasting the sum for river work with the $340,000,000 which the government will eventually spend for the development of Boulder Dam, Congressman Porter set forth that the report will not discuss the advantages of hydro-electric power development, but will deal with flood control only. The survey of possible sites for storage reservoirs in back of the mountainous regions was brought about by a special bill fostered by Congressman Porter. The report already has been reviewed by Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of the United States engineer corps.

Report Reviewed

Congressman Porter's letter to the local flood commission, addressed to Chairman George S. Davidson, urges the commission's engineers to study the report and make their recommendations as quickly as possible. The letter in part stated.

"In accordance with the usual policy of the United States engineers with regard to reports of this kind, details of the contents of the report on your project cannot be made public until it is formally transmitted to Congress. But from a talk I recently had with General Jadwin in connection with this matter I am greatly encouraged over the successful solution of the local flood problem if we all stay actively on the job."

Wild Scramble At Police Station; Read Big Details

Mike Scheffler of 1221 Huron avenue, reported to the police Wednesday that there was an aluminum roaster in which there were a number of pork chops; on his porch, which had evidently been stolen from some other place and left on his porch.

Officer Longstreth was detailed and brought the roaster and pork chops to the police station.

Then they were forgotten, at least for the moment, but not forever, because this morning, Joseph Petrosky, man of all work at the police station caused a general exodus from the police station, when while seeking the cause of an unpleasant odor, he came upon the roaster and opened it up.

While the police were awaiting the owner to claim his property, the pork chops became "ripe." All the occupants of the police station came up for air several times, until the chops had been disposed off and the office had been aired out.

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 27.—Matching college wit against prison cunning, members of the University of California chess club and a similar organization at Folson prison are now intent upon a game which has been under way for more than a month. Two moves apiece have been made—by mail—so far. While neither side will admit the possibility of defeat it is said that the college chess players will change as the years pass, while those playing on the prison side of the board are headed by a man serving a life term.

Holiday Season Is Gloomy One For Little Dog

Deserted By Owners County Sup. J. C. Syling Would Like To Find Home For Him

Up on Franklin avenue a little white dog, deserted by his owners is spending a mournful holiday season. The dog's owners moved out of the city more than a week ago leaving their pet to take care of himself.

The little dog spends much of his time on the front porch of the house, looking expectantly at every passer-by as though expecting every moment to find his late owners returning. Kind neighbors furnished the little dog with a good Christmas diner and they have since been feeding him but none seem to want to give him a home.

The little dog's plight was called to the attention of a News reporter this morning by County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling. Last night the dog slept between a couple of bee hives belonging to Mr. Syling but he does not like to have it sleep there for fear that it stirs up the bees. Mr. Syling believes that there is some boy or girl in the city who would be glad to give the little dog a home. He is a pretty little dog and would make a nice pet. If you want the dog see Mr. Syling or telephone him at his home 827 Franklin avenue.

People Change Gold Pieces For Paper

Those who were so fortunate as to receive gold money for Christmas do not seem to appreciate it, according to statements made this morning at two of the down town banks.

Wednesday afternoon and today many people of New Castle went to the banks, in order that they could have their gold money changed into paper, which seems to be more presentable to the stores.

One bank clerk states that he handled no less than $500 in $20 gold pieces in a very short time this morning, changing them for paper money.

Robert W. Eno, field representative of the American Jersey Cattle Club will be present at the meeting of the Lawrence County Jersey Cattle Club which will take place January 2 at 2 p. m. at the farm of Miss Jean Clark on the Mt. Jackson and Enon road, states County Agent Harold McCulloch.

There will be a series of two meetings for Jersey cattle breeders throughout the coming week. In addition to this afternoon meeting, there will also be a meeting of the county association Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A., in New Castle.

The meeting at the Clark farm is open to all cattle raisers and especially Jersey breeders who should witness the demonstration which will be made by Mr. Eno pertaining to the tatooing of cattle.

The new regulation with regards to the registration of Jersey cattle states that all such cattle must bear an abbreviated tatoo of their record. The demonstration will be made in order that the local club members might be acquainted with the method employed.

Thursday evening, the association members will meet at the Y. M. C. A., for a business session. Reports of the past year will be checked and a comparison will be made with other clubs in the state in order that the exact standing of the club may be ascertained.

Mr. Eno will also speak to the Jersey breeders of the county at this night meeting.

Two Charged With Liquor Violations

W. B. Scott, negro, and Eva Conway, negress, of Rose Point, are in the county jail in default of $1,500 bail each, on charges of violating the Snyder act made before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton by Constable John Miller.

Last Saturday evening Constables John Miller, W. G. Rees, DeGraff Robinson and Detective George Brinton visited their place of abode in Rose Point and found Scott in possession of a jug of liquor.

Scott thought to get the best of the officers and smashed the jug on the sidewalk outside the home. The officers, however, were able to mop up sufficient of the liquor to use as evidence. The woman tried to save Scott by saying it was her liquor, with the result that she was charged along with Scott with the violation.

The woman entered a plea of guilty, while Scott was held for court following a hearing before Alderman Hamilton.

New Kensington Fire Is Mystery

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Dec. 27.—Unable to unearth evidence of incendiarism in the $100,000 blaze which swept the Sigmund Nielson building here last Friday, Fire Chief Edward Clawson today said the authorities were about to record the fire as of undetermined origin. Nothing but the walls remain.

Evangelist Will Conduct Revival

Rev. L. S. Hoover, Formerly Of New Castle, Here For Services

Evangelist Lester S. Hoover of Tionesta, Pa., will arive in this city today to open a revival campaign Friday night at the Free Methodist church of Coaltown. The first meeting tomorrow will commence at 7:30 p. m.

Rev Hoover is a former New Castle boy, having worked for the Pennsylvania railroad before entering the ministry. For a number of years he was a successful circuit preacher but about five years ago shifted his work of preaching from the circuit to the evangelistic field. Since that time he ha conducted revival meetings in several large cities of the east, west and the south.

It was just recently that he labored in a successful meeting in the city of Syracuse, N. Y., which extended over a long period of time.

The people of New Castle and Lawrence county are cordially invited to attend the meetings which Rev. Hoover will hold here. If you attend once you will want to hear him again. Evangelist Hoover is an excellent singer and sings many solos throughout the services he conducts. Rev. M. E. Wolcott pastor of the Coaltown church and his members invite everyone to come and hear Hoover Friday night.

It probably doesn't please Mr. Hoover to hear that he was elected merely a reproof to the wicked.

Secret Formula Believed Cause Of Poison Murder

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Belief that the international importance of a secret formula for the treatment of copper, recently discovered, led to the poison murder of a watchman at the Guggenheim laboratories here today was expressed by officials of the laboratory with the finding of the guard's body in a chemically laden room.

The murder was committed in one of the most diabolical methods on record, a throwback to the mediaeval crimes of the Borgias. Potassium cyanide a poison resulting in almost instant death was placed in the coffee of Arthur Gow, watchman.

Gow's body was found in the Guggenheim laboratories by employes reporting for work today. Nearby two other men who had been slugged over the head with a revolver were found bound and gagged. They are Wilmer Mayhew and Chester McCauley, both of Baltimore.

The pair who had driven a truckload of tear gas from the Southern Motor Corporation plant in Baltimore surprised a lone bandit who was rifling the laboratory after he had killed Gow.

Wife Of Durant Essay Winner Also Submits Very Practical Ideas

Mrs. Chester P. Mills, Wife Of $25,000 Prize - Winner, Has Own Ideas

Plan Of Enforcement By Mrs. Mills Would Educate Local Communities

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Chester P. Mills, wife of the recipient of the $25,000 prize offered by W. C. Durant for the best and most practicable plan for making the 18th amendment effective, was announced today as author of a plan that ran a close second to that of Major Mills himself.

Major William H. Allen, secretary of the prize award committee, made the announcement. He quote Major Mills as saying that he considered Mrs. Mills plan even superior to his own prize-winning contribution.

The plan of Mrs. Mills calls for education of communities to the necessity of local cooperation, more and better federal judges, a more careful selection of prohibition agents, large bonds for manufacturers producing or handling alcohol, public reports by prohibition administrators as to the success of their efforts at enforcement, additional treaties with foreign countries to stop the international flow of liquor to this country, closer control of brewery production, and the withdrawals of scaramental wines.

Would Advertise

A plan for expenditure in a great national educational advertising campaign of a great part of the $13,000,000 appropriated by congress for prohibition enforcement, was among the 23,000 plans submitted in the contest. The plan was submitted by Edward R. Oldham, advertising manager of a local manufacturing company.

In effect, the Oldham plan points out that 110,000,000 people are confronted with a revolutionary change in their national and individual habits due to the 18th amendment and the Volstead law. The government must adopt the methods utilized by any great business this contestant pointed out in putting an entirely new idea or articles on the market. This, he says, must be done by every known form of advertising after a carefully worked out plan has been adopted.

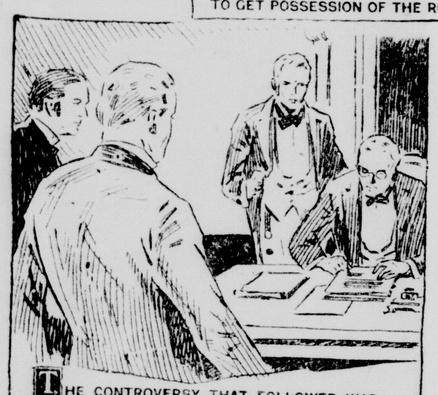
The Story Of The Panama Canal—Part 4
Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, 1850

IN THE LATE "FORTIES" THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, IN ANSWER TO THE DEMAND FOR A SHORT CUT FROM THE ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC, APPLIED TO MEXICO FOR A RIGHT OF WAY ACROSS THE ISTHMUS OF TEHUANTEPEC MEXICO, HOWEVER, WOULD NOT AGREE TO THIS.

THE UNITED STATES THEN SOUGHT TO DIG A CANAL THROUGH NICAPAGUA FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN. THIS PROJECT STRUCK A SNAG, AS THE EASTERN END OF THE PROPOSED CANAL WAS CONTROLLED BY THE BRITISH, WHO WERE TRYING TO GET POSSESSION OF THE ROUTE THEMSELVES.



THE CONTROVERSY THAT FOLLOWED WAS CLOSED FOR A TIME BY THE SIGNING OF THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY IN 1850, THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN AGREEING TO GUARANTEE JOINTLY THE NEUTRALITY OF ANY CANAL THAT EITHER MIGHT CONSTRUCT IN CENTRAL AMERICA.

LATER, NICARAGUA DISPUTED ENGLAND'S CLAIM TO CONTROL OF THE MOSQUITO COAST, AND APPEALED TO THE UNITED STATES. THERE WAS A GREAT DEAL OF WRANGLING AND, WHILE THIS WAS GOING ON, THE CANAL PROJECT LANGUISHED.

New Year's Day Bouts Arranged

Carpentier Battles Rio; Joe Midway To Box Martin; Elmo Boxes Tom Farrow

POLIS GIVES WARREN A SECOND CHANCE

By ED. FRITZ

Almost one ton of pugilistic flesh will cavort in Jolly Bowl ring New Year's afternoon when Jack Dillon, the rugged "surprise package" of Nashville, and Henry Firpo, tall as a letter "I", prance in the main bout of a show which is expected to be one of the most slashing fistic attractions ever arranged at Jolly Bowl. Every fighter on the card is popular and knockdowns and knockouts should be the feature of the fistic extravaganza.

In our mind the Dillon-Firpo fight is worth repeating. Firpo, we know, did have a severe cold, as it was yours truly who summoned a physician to attend him at The Leslie. He did not fight up to his usual ability, but at the same time it must be confessed that Henry didn't apparently know how to solve the offense and defense of Dillon, one of the most aggressive fighters who has appeared here. They'll fight at 155 pounds.

U. S. Carpentier, who withstood the furious assault of Joey Goodman, and who many in the big assembly sincerely believe was entitled to at least a draw, will return to battle the ghost of Cleveland, Frankie Rio. The last time they clashed many thought Carpentier had won, so this match, like that of Dillon and Firpo, will be sort of a "rubber" affair. Carpentier and Rio are fast and fans can be sure they'll see action. They weigh 130 pounds each.

The last time Joe Midway fought here he lasted five rounds with Firpo, so Promoter Bill Jolly put his "okay" on a bout between Midway and Nick Martin, who stopped "Bull" Miller in a couple of sessions here. Miller proved a set-up for Nick, but Joe, if he bores in and keeps punching, should be able to cause many anxious moments for Martin. They're middleweights, know how to sock, and a knockout is a probability.

Four light-heavyweights will toss a million punches in two four-round bouts, and the most popular of that class will shine. Elmo the Mighty, who received a draw with Tom Farrow, will again tackle the "Ebony Kid", and in another bout Warren Farrow, brother to Tom, will try to obtain revenge on Nick Polis, who knocked him down just as the bell sounded for the last time in their bout at the Bowl.

Firpo and Dillon resumed training here yesterday. Although Firpo had been out of the ring only 24 hours, he was on the road running at six a. m. Wednesday morning. We met the human "I" as he dog-trotted in North Mercer street toward the Wilmington road. Despite his defeat he wore a cheerful smile and stopped a few minutes to give a discourse on what he thought was wrong Christmas afternoon.

"There are some who will not believe I had a severe cold, but you are one who knows this to be true. You called a doctor for me and got me the medicine," said Firpo to the writer, and this is the truth. Firpo says that while he felt fine when he entered the ring his legs gave way on him and at times he was tired, "something I never felt before in my career," he declared.

"You couldn't fathom his style. You stood still several times and was easy to hit. You staved him off with your left, cocked your right, but used it only as a threat," we told Firpo. "Guess you are right," replied Firpo, adding: "I will be different when I box Dillon Monday. Oh, well, Jack is a good fighter, and while I am not grumbling, I want to win and I will Tuesday," whereupon Firpo "hit the road" again.

After journeying to the center of the city we met Jack Dillon. He was seated in an arm chair at The Leslie. "Aren't you going to 'hit the road' today?" we asked the rugged "surprise package". He smiled and replied, "No, not today. I am celebrating. I am in good shape and a day lay-off will not hurt me. However, I will box this afternoon to keep my muscles pliable." And he did, at the Bowl gym.

Tonight at McKeesport Firpo will take on Young Saylor of Charleroi in a 10-round bout. Saylor has a good left hook at close quarters. When they met here the left to the jaw at close range was about the only blow Saylor landed. He claimed he was hit low by Firpo, but the commission refused to allow the claim.

Fans paid a nice Christmas compliment to Referee George Chip by giving him a glad hand when he appeared as referee. That was the proper spirit, expressed audibly, and the "old boy" felt the better for it. He worked hard to please and no one found any fault with his work. George isn't as fast as he might be, but where is there the human who has not a single failing? Boy, we all have them.

And the same fans were most orderly throughout the progress of the show. They showed wholesome respect for the many ladies who had accompanied their husbands, brothers and escorts to the fistic show. A boxing endeavor can be killed forever by disorder and after boxing has been established on a safe plane here it certainly would be a pity were something done to put a black eye on the game which many people enjoy.

Emmett Rocco fights Bud Gorman at Akron New Year's day. So long, Bud!

Haven't seen Romeo Pacelli in fistic action for some time. Some say he drew a suspension for not appearing at the Bowl some time ago. Too bad. Romeo's a nice performer.

Let's try and get Jimmy Belmont for a six-rounder or a semi-finalist. He can fight.

By the way, no one hears much of Billy Wallace nowadays.

Johnny Datto has been signed for fights in Toledo and Cincinnati. Opponents are now being sought.

Sharkey And Stribling May Fight, February 26

Tex Rickard Busy Arranging Details For Bout At Miami Beach, Florida

Stribling Popular, But Sharkey Will Be Favorite With Winter Colonists

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Making a noise like a rubber heel, Mister Rickard has disappeared in the direction of Miami, Fla., guarding the great secret with the zeal of a young mother with her young. He did, however, relax his vigilance long enough to say that he would have a "big announcement" to make on Saturday. The announcement in question is that Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling will meet in a 10-round bout at Miami Beach on or about February 26, and Mister Rickard wants you to be sure and stop him if you have heard that one before. He then will tell you the one about the traveling salesman.

The announcement that he will not make is that he is guaranteeing Stribling and Sharkey about $150,000 for the spot in question. This means that if it should happen that the customers turn up missing in large numbers he will be licked again. He went for at least $200,000 with Tunney and Heeney and forthwith proclaimed that, hereafter guarantees were out like a wayward son in the evening. The chances are that he really has something this time, however.

Sharkey Favorite

The South will go for Stribling, even if he happens to be fighting that renowned old warrior, John J. Nobody. Toss Willie in with a ranking heavyweight like Sharkey and it is hard to see how the transaction can miss, particularly with Florida's colony of winter visitors ready for anything that the next minute may bring.

It may be that the fight will have to gross a quarter of a million to get Mister Rickard out of the barrel. He says he will be disappointed if it doesn't gross a half million. I think I will reserve comment on that, thus giving Mister Rickard one more chance to be right. They defied him to be right on his Tunney-Heeney estimates. So he up and fooled them. He was wrong, very wrong. However, his average still is high enough to restrain any ribald remarks from the peasantry at this time.

As a matter of fact, the fight does look the part of a natural. Stribling's popularity below the line is only one of its assets. The general understanding that the winner is likely to get Dempsey in a title fight later on is distinctly another. The third is the presence of Dempsey, who may or may not be announced out of his retirement during the general excitement in Florida, depending on whether this will be deemed an aid or a hindrance to the Sharkey-Stribling publicity.

Yankees Return Reese To Coast

Jimmie Reese, Second Baseman Returned To Oakland By New York Yanks

(International News Service)

OAKLAND Cal., Dec. 27—Jimmie Reese second baseman has been returned on option from New York Yankees to the Oakland baseball club of the Pacific Coast League, President J. Cal Ewing announced Wednesday.

Reese will play second base for the Oaks in 1929. Lyn Lary, who was sold with Reese for $125,000 last year, will report however, to the Yankees, and is expected to fill in at shortstop between Tony Lazzeri and Mark Koenig.

Owing to ill health, Reese did not do himself justice last year. With success in 1929, he will likely report to the Yankees.

Reports that Howard Craghead, young pitcher, had been sold to the Yanks were denied by Ewing.

Collegians And Castles Winners

Castle Six Girls Defeat Merry Makers, 20-19; Collegians Top Ricks, 22-19

BOTH GAMES AT "Y" INTERESTING

The All-Star Collegians proved too strong for the Rick Motors of the City elague in an exhibition game at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Wednesday night. The final score was 22 to 19. In the preliminary game the Castle Six Girls team defeated the Boardman Ohio, Merry Makers 20-19.

Both games were hard fought and interesting throughout. The final scores were in doubt until the whistle blew. In the girls game the Castles held a lead of 10 to 9 at the end of the first half, through the fine teamwork. The Ohio maidens put up a fine battle in the second half but were nosed out at the wire. Miss Myrtle Burnette let the Castles in scoring with three baskets. Emch and Wunderlich were the big stars for the Merry Makers.

The All-Star Collegians managed to eke out a 22 to 19 victory over the Rick Motors of the City league in the feature game on the program. The Ricks led at the end of the first half 9 to 8. The second half was hotly contested with the Collegians forging ahead in the fourth period. Bruce Franklin and Johnny Kraft were the big guns for the Collegians with Franklin caging five baskets and Kraft two. Andy Hartman and "Jewie" Coen led the Rick Motors in scoring.

The Collegians were composed of former high school and college stars home for the holiday period.

Pointed for English Turf Classic

By QUIN HALL.

REIGH COUNT, America's champion three-year-colt, is on English soil, in training to compete for the Ascot Gold Cup, one of the oldest and richest stakes on the English turf calendar. The champion, the property of Mrs. John D. Hertz, of Chicago, was shipped over earlier this month and was accompanied by her trainer, B. Michel.

Chick Lang, who has piloted the colt in all of his important races during the past season, is slated to be up on Reigh Count when he goes to the post in the Ascot Cup event, which, incidentally, is run over the two and one-half mile route.

Reigh Count is a chestnut colt by Sunreigh-Contessina and was bred by Willis Sharpe Kilmer. Kilmer sold him in 1927 to Mrs. Hertz at a figure said to be around $15,000.

The visit of Reigh Count to England is arousing international interest in racing circles—an interest comparable to that which was aroused when Papyrus, an English Derby winner, and Epinard, a French thoroughbred, were beaten by Zev at Belmont Park several years back. Zev, by the way, was also noted as the biggest money winner in the history of horse racing in America.

Reigh Count's bid for European popularity came with his victory in the historic Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, in Louisville, last May. While he captured other important stakes his triumph in the Spring classic at Louisville brought him the most fame in Great Britain.

In the Ascot Cup event Reigh Count will be pitted against the best gallopers in England and France, and if he succeeds in winning the event, which was first inaugurated in 1808, his name will go down in racing history with such horses as Isonomy, Gay Crusader, Persimmon, Isinglass and Prince Palatine, all famous winners of the annual British turf classic.

While numerous American thoroughbreds have raced in stake events on the other side, few have been successful. Among the American owners who have flaunted their colors on courses governed by the English Jockey Club are Pierre Lorillard, whose Iroquois won the Epsom Derby in 1881; James R. Keene, August Belmont, William C. Whitney, Harry Payne Whitney, Herman B. Duryea, Richard Croker, A. K. Macomber, Marshall Field, Stephen Sanford and Charles Schwartz.

American-bred horses have won the Two Thousand Guineas twice, the One Thousand Guineas once, the Epsom Derby once, the Epsom Oaks once, the Doncaster St. Leger twice, the Sandown Eclipse Stakes once and the Jockey Club Stakes once. Sergeant Murphy, Stephen Sanford's jumper, won the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree in 1923 and in 1926 Charles Schwartz's Jack Horner triumphed in the same event. Americans with horses which have been bred in England have been succesful in several instances, but those victories can scarcely be recorded as American triumphs abroad.

The best long shot that was ever put across by an American in England was Norman III, winner of the 1908 Two Thousand Guineas and owned by August Belmont. Norman was jockeyed by O. Madden, a well-known rider on the British courses, and paid 25 to 1.

Reigh Count is the first American-bred colt to go to England to fill a Gold Cup engagement in the last twenty years. Mrs. Hertz and her husband, John D., have been very successful since joining the racing fraternity and track fans are hoping that the big chestnut colt will triumph in the Ascot Cup event next Summer.

Alumni Quintet Ready To Battle Senior High Five

New Castle High School Floor Team To Open Home Season Friday Night

GAME TO BE PLAYED AS BENEFIT AFFAIR

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle High School basketball team will get an acid test on Friday night when they battle the Alumni team in the Senior High gymnasium. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. It will be the initial home game of the 1928-29 basketball program.

The Alumni quintet will be composed of former High School luminaries as follows:—Reider, Franklin Day, Robinson, Sumner, Freidman Hartman; Kraft, Soyring, Connelly Richards Lockley, C. Ross, McGrath McClelland, and Glenn Thomas. Andy Hartman will act as coach and playing manager of the Alumni five.

Alumni Confident

The formers stars have avowed that Coach Bridenbaugh had better place a strong team on the court tomorrow night, because they are out to defeat the Senior High tossers. The Alumni wil stage several short practice sessions prior to the game. Coach Hartman will likely use five men the entire first half and then switch over to an entirely new team in the second half of the battle. The Alumni by using two different sets of men will have an advantage over the High passers.

The game Friday night will mark the inauguration of another basketball season at Senior High School. The locals last year rode to the Sectional III title after a hectic playoff game with Butler at the Pitt stadium floor. The Duquesne team put New Castle out of the running for the championship in a hard fought encounter. The red and black team opened their season last Friday night at Altona and brought back a 24 to 14 victory. The locals looked very good in their first encounter and gave promise of developing into a smooth working combination.

When the fans assemble at Senior High gym on Friday night, they will find a newly revamped gym with plenty of seats for everyone. Five new bleaches have been installed and will seat about 1,500 fans. The bleachers were used on Thanksgiving to accomodate the big football crowd and later removed to Senior High.

Selling Reserved Seats

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has arranged to sell reserved seats for basketball this year. Starting today at the Sporting Goods Store on East Washington street, reserved seats will go on sale at $7.50 per season ticket. Fans can also buy single game reserved seats at an additional cost of 25 cents. The general admission will be 50 cents, with the total price 75 cents if you desire a reserved seat. There will be perhaps 150 reserved seats sold.

There are twelve home games on the schedule so far with a possibility that a few more games will be arranged.

The game tomorrow night is being played as a benefit game for the Alumni Athletic Association. The Alumni Association finances are not in the best of condition and it is hoped that by this game set for Friday night that the treasury will be a little more healthier. William "Bill" Connery is handling the business end of the game for the Alumni.

The Alumni team should give the red and black artists one of the hardest games on the independent schedule that has been arranged. Almost every member of the Alumni team has played on a New Castle High championship team, and this should make things interesting.

Tickets for the game tomorrow night have also been placed on sale at the Atwell & Gowell service station at the corner of Falls and North Mill streets. Several members of the alumni are also selling tickets for the big benefit game.

Seriously Crippled Nittany Squad Will Make Tour Through Middle West

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 27.—Dutch Hermann who coaches the Penn State basketball team has come to believe that Santa Claus is almost non-existant, for, on the very eve of the Nittany Lions' trip to the midwest the faculty committee on athletics has decided that Vere Balmer reserve center and one who was expected to show much speed on the four game jaunt, is ineligible for play on account of low scholarship.

As a result Captain Lou Reilly, although he is suffering from an injured wrist, may be used. George Delp, who will play with the all east grid team on the coast New Year's day will not play basketball until after the holidays.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Christmas Mail Extra Heavy At Ward Post Office

Excellent Service Given; Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward

Christmas mail was heavier this year than past years at the Mahoningtown post office, stated E. M. McBride, superintendent of the Mahoningtown station post office this morning.

Each day last week there was an average of between fifty and sixty-five bags of mail brought into the local office. There was not much one-cent mail, the mail being cards and parcel post. On Monday four full trucks and a half a truck of parcel post was taken from the local office to be delivered in the ward.

The employes of the Mahoningtown station were on the job and excellent service was given. There is a force of four at this post office, superintendent, clerk and two mail carriers. During the Christmas rush there was two substitutes and an extra carrier assisting. Mail coming into the local office was gotten out in fine shape.

There was still Christmas mail which had come into the office this morning. Some of this mail coming in today had been mailed on the 21 and 22 of December. Showing that there were some places where mail was so heavy it could not be sent out before Christmas. Some people put mail in the local office on Saturday afternoon and evening for out of town, some of them asked if people they were sending to, would receive it before Tuesday, when told they would probably not, they could not seem to understand why. If people would put Christmas mail into post offices early persons receiving the mail would be sure to get it for Christmas.

Each day twelve mails come into the Mahoningtown station post office. Three from New Castle and nine from other places.

Want Display At Inaugural

To Ask Hoover To Have Ceremony Of Fitting Nature

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—When President-elect Herbert Hoover returns to Washington early in January he will be confronted by a congressional request to abandon his plan for a very simple inaugural ceremony on March 4, it was learned today.

He will be urged to permit a demonstration of the power and dignity of the federal government by the inclusion of probably 10,000 soldiers, sailors and marines in the parade down historic Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol.

Senator George H. Moses (R) of New Hampshire, and Rep. Bertrand Snell (R) of New York, representing the joint congressional committee on inaugural exercises are expected to place the matter before Mr. Hoover.

Doran Says Boy Should Have Been Given First Prize

Boy Shows Real Grasp Of Situation Says Prohibition Commissioner

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.— Malcolm D. Almack, of Palo Alto, Calif., the 15 year old school boy, who captured second prize in W. C. Durant's "how to dry up United States" contest, should have taken first award instead of Chester P. Mills, according to Dr. J. M. Doran, prohibition commissioner. Doran assailed Mills' prize winning essay as "an exchange of old stuff for new money."

"The Palo Alto lad described a comprehensive plan embracing public education, expansion of the courts and improvement of enforcement machinery and personnel," Doran said today.

"Almack showed a remarkable grasp of the situation and I wish to commend him on his effort. Where Major Mills stressed conditions which existed when he was in the New York prohibition office, the Palo Alto school boy looked into the future and saw just what would be required to make prohibition effective."

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—With a few exceptions industrial stocks dropped to a lower level today, under the influence of tight money and Wednesday's closing selling wave, which had already wiped out the bulk of the advances made in the first part of the day. The high priced industrials and the oil stocks were reactionary. Radio dropping 6 point the first half hour, while most of the copper stocks were firm.

The renewal money rate was 10 per cent.

General Motors sold down 2½ points at 195½; Westinghouse dropped 2. American International 2½; General Electric 1½; Consolidated Gas 1½; Chrysler Motor 2 and U S Steel less than a point.

The reported sale of export copper at 16½ cents a pound seems to bear out forecasts of 17 cent copper. The coppers were all strong, Anaconda selling in good volume above 110.

Old Blockhouse Is Opened As Museum

(International News Service)

DRESDEN, Dec. 27.—The "Wild West" blockhouse in the park in which stands the villa "Shatterhand," where Karl May lived and wrote, has been enlarged and opened as a Karl May Museum. It contains, among other things of interest, a collection of valuable exhibits dealing with the North American Indians.

Probably no other German author is so much and so eagerly read by the German youth as Karl May, who can be compared with James Fenimore Cooper.

WINTER SPORTS SEASON IS NOW IN FULL SWING

The winter sports season is now in full swing, both in Europe and America. Very interesting and colorful are the costumes executed by the foremost designers for wear at these places. Pictured at left is a Doeuillet-Doucet model consisting of beige sweater and bright plaid coat. Woolen socks are worn with this suit. The black velvet skirt provides a picturesque foil for Patou's flame colored sweater and accessories, center. Jane Regny chooses bottle green for her model, right, with frivolous brass buttons for fastening.

Last of Jewel Gang

Eddie Kane, 32, wanted by police in a score of eastern cities on two murder indictments and 25 grand larceny charges, who was recently arrested in Kenosha, Wis., where he is said to have been in hiding since 1927, is declared by police to be the last of the "Boston Billy Gang," to which the robbery of $2,800,000 worth of jewels from millionaires' homes occurred from 1924 to 1927. The other two surviving members of the gang are serving prison terms.

France Pays $8,798 Expense Bill For Signing Peace Pact

Luncheon, Dinner, And Reception Cost French Government $3,000

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 27.—Alongside the billions it cost to wage the last war stands a pigmy figure, $8,798, expended in outlawing that burly, bewhiskered belligerent, Mars.

The sum of $8,798 is the grand total for the ceremony of signing the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact at the French Foreign Office last August, according to the list of supplementary credits just voted by the Chamber of Deputies.

Thus fifteen nations are safe from war "as an instrument of national policy" for the price of one de luxe automobile, a modest house and lot, or about ten ringside seats to a "Battle of the Century."

This is how the money was used:

Lodging and meals for the delegations and the upkeep of automobiles for their use	$3,307
Furnishings, labor, decorations, lighting, printing the pact and other documents	2,491
Luncheon, dinner and reception	3,000
Grand total	$8,798

The cheapest item was the actual "weapon" used against War, a gold engraved fountain pen which was given to Mr. Kellogg by the City of Havre.

An old-timer is one who can remember when girls considered croquet exercise.

Report $735.87 For Red Cross

Nearly $800 Raised In County Roll Call, Late Reports Show

Late reports to the Red Cross office here show that a total of $735.87 has to date been reported for the recent roll call of the organization in the county. Of this amount $313.00 will be forwarded to national headquarters in Washington while $422.87 will be retained here.

Fifty per cent of all "annual" memberships taken in go to the national fund of the organization while 50 cents of all other memberships goes for this purpose. The remaining amount stays for relief and disaster work here.

Shenango township has just reported $10.30 in the students' drive there. Clare Book, principal of the Shenango school, was the Red Cross sub-chairman in that district. Other districts reporting were West Pittsburg, J. R. Howell, sub-chairman, $21.00; Plaingrove, Floyd Rogers, sub-chairman, $44.50 and additional donations of 50 cents and $1 from Hickory township and Wampum, respectively.

Whalen Doing All In Power To Clean Up New York City

New Police Commissioner Turns Things Upside Down In Metropolis

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Police Commissioner Whalen's iron fist police dealt another crushing blow to retreating crookdom Wednesday.

He not only decided to continue the feared strong arm squad, but announced that a special band of night stick wielders and "knuckle knockers" will be established in four boroughs. Manhattan will have two, one operating above Fifty-ninth street, the other below.

Whalen said that the new squads also would assist in cleaning the subways of male flirts who annoy women.

The first important liquor seizure by the police since Whalen announced he would cooperate with the Federal authorities in enforcing prohibition as a means of cutting down crime in the city, occurred this morning when police seized Scotch and champagne valued at $100,000 in the Bronx. Eight men, in whose charge the liquor apparently was, were detained.

Pacific Airline To Shorten Time Between Honolulu And America

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Thirty hour air service between the United States and Honolulu. That is the plan made public Wednesday by Herbert N. Royster, former army aviator and head of the new transportation concern.

Simultaneously with the service announcement it was learned that construction would be started within 60 days on a 100 passenger lighter-than-air craft embodying features of the dirigible and airplane.

The Hybred ship will be used in the new transpacific line, it was said.

Instead of depending upon mooring masts, the ship will be equipped with landing gear using wheels.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The probabilities are that it will cause hardly more than a ripple of excitement along the rialto when the announcement is made that next Tuesday, January 1, 1929, will be observed as New Years Day. Some day in the year has to be observed in this manner so why not January 1st.

Now while the announcement will be received with the utmost equanimity among the burghers of our fair city, yet the season is fraught with limitless possibilities. Resolutions, oh oodles of them, perfectly good resolutions that will be cracked open wider than New Orleans in the Mardi Gras season, but made with all the solemnity of the annual occasion.

All of us have our pet resolutions. Years ago the lads used to gather down at the Dutchman's on the corner and hooking a practised heel over the brass rail and bending the elbow in the angle best known to members of the lodge, would solemnly resolute that they were on the wagon for the next twelve months.

What mattered it that the next Saturday night would see the same crowd gathered in the same spot, and hooking the same heel over the same rail, the resolution was a good one wasn't it? And didn't it show a perfectly good desire to shun the flowing bowl and all that sort of thing? The answer is it did, and the second answer found on the back page is that the resolution never got ear marked from much use, it was only taken out of moth balls on New Years Eve.

That particular sort of resolution is not made so much these days. The kind of stuff that is peddled now is of such potency that by the time a fellow gets around to making a resolution swearing off, the playmates are pouring him in the front door. And anyway there aren't any brass rails and without a brass rail that kind of resolution wouldn't seem valid.

After handling the Christmas requests of a number of the citizens, this colyum is prepared to suggest some New Years resolutions that would come in handy.

For instance, to wit and viz:— City council. Resolves to fix up Wilmington avenue, Grant street, Butler avenue, oh go ahead and name your own streets that need some bumps ironed out. The resolution is elastic anyway.

The County Commissioners. Resolve to put in the card notification system in the County Treasurer's office so that taxpayers will have some idea what they owe before the Delinquent Tax Collector sells the bed out from under them.

Ralph Gardner. Resolve not to schedule Beaver Falls football in 1929.

County Detective Fleming. Resolve to pinch any and all bootleggers regardless of color, race, or creed or previous condition of servitude. The servitude will be added after the arrest.

The Chinese have a custom of paying all their bills on New Years Day. Quite an idea but what is a fellow going to use for money if he tries to pay them all?

The English custom is to around and visit your friends, and at each stop get a cup of tea and a piece of Christmas cake. The idea is that every piece of cake you eat means a happy month in the new year. Some of the folks used to get caked up for the next four years, and drank so much tea that every time they saw a tea pot they started to gurgle.

Just what the old Spanish custom is does not appear at this time, but they probably go around fighting bulls. Or maybe its Mexico.

Anyhow it will soon be time to turn over a new leaf, resolve to speak kindly to the wife, resolve not to swear when the last collar button rolls under the dresser, and resolve not to do an African war dance when the wife opens a can of corn with the new razor.

What is your resolve? Get them in early to this colyum and the winner will receive a handsomely engraved pair of celluloid suspenders.

Seems like I didn't get around to all the pretty Christmas decorations. Nearly missed what is probably the prettiest outdoor set piece in the city up on Shaw street. Fred March is the designer of it and is consists of a flashing Star of Bethlehem set in a Christmas tree with green lights as a border. A beautiful piece of work, one that shows originality and artistic sense and this is just another one that should be awarded a prize. That is if there were any prizes.

Seriously, this idea of electric decorations for Christmas should be encouraged. Not that this is an advertisement for the electric company, and our bill is paid for the month, but the message of the season is flashed out in such an attractive way that passers by are imbued with the idea of the season, more forcibly.

And before the subject of decorations is closed, let's give another hand to the residents of East Winter avenue.

The card shower this year was a perfect success, thank you kindly From Florida to California they showered down and every card was just one more bright spot in the season.

One card still has me figuring. It is a nameogram effect with four characters spelling out somebody's name. Whoever designed it was a genius, but for the luvamike who is it? Worse than a cross word puzzle or Stan Treser's street puzzle.

Now the next card shower will be from the gas company, the telephone company, the electric light company and various sundry friends, all of them bearing this happy inscription, "please remit."

GAINED GLORIOUS HEALTH THRU USE OF NEW KONJOLA

Rundown System Invigorated By This Medicine; Also Ended All His Severe Ailments.

MR. JOHN SOMTAG

The amazing manner in which this new Konjola medicine has restored thousands of people to health after many years suffering from disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels has not only become the talk of the drug and medical trades of this section but is also the subject of much interest to the general public. Konjola is recommended at the Love and Megown Drug Store, 204 East Washington street, this city, where people are calling daily to find out for themselves about this new medicine. A steady stream of voluntary indorsements are being received from former sufferers and among those to indorse Konjola is Mr. John Somtag, 911 Maryland avenue, New Castle, who made the following report.

"I am publicly indorsing Konjola because I know what this medicine will do", said Mr. Somtag. "It has restored my health at a time when I felt sure nothing would ever give me the slightest relief.

"Some time ago I was taken sick with a severe case of influenza and when I had recovered from this sickness it seemed to me that my entire system was left in a very run-down condition. My whole body was a mass of aches and pains and nothing that I would ever do for relief helped me the least bit. It was almost impossible for me to get to sleep at night because my nerves were so upset I would roll and toss on my bed for hours. I steadily lost weight and strength until I was a mere shell of my former self. Then my kidneys became affected and I was forced to rise several times every night due to frequent bladder action and all during the day I was subject to severe pains across the small of my back that really made life miserable for me. I was quite discouraged because I thought my case was beyond hope and I would go through the rest of my life in this condition.

"But since I have taken Konjola everything is different and this medicine has made such a vast improvement in my condition that I can hardly realize I am the same person. It did not take a great quantity to produce the results I have just completed the second bottle and I want to tell everyone that my health is all that I ever hoped it to be. I can go to sleep the minute I get in bed and I never wake up until the next morning. All the aches and pains have disappeared and I am steadily gaining in weight and strength. My kidneys are so much stronger that the night risings are things of the miserable past and those pains across my back never come over me. I have a keener enjoyment in the daily activities and am always filled with energy and ambition. It is a pleasure to indorse such a medicine and I know that others will gain the same benefits that I did if they will only give this medicine a fair trial".

Konjola is sold by LOVE AND MEGOWN, The Druggist, 204 East Washington street, this city.
